DRAWING AND ART

Evening Schools Will Close
Next Monday

Graduation Exercises Will be Held Following Evening—Prof
Herman H. Bachmann Will Deliver Address—Public Exhibition at Whistler House

The evening drawing and art schools close their sessions for this year on Monday evening next, and graduation exercises will be held at their school building, corner of Broadway and Dummer street, the next evening, Tuesday, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock. The address will be by Prof. Herman H. Bachmann, teacher of design and power weaving at the Lowell Textile school, and the diploma will be given by His Honor, Mayor Meehan.

Speaking of the exercises of graduation in the evening drawing and art schools, Arthur K. Whitcomb, superintendent of schools, said:

"The exercises of graduation at these schools are more informal than those of the day or evening high school, and the attendance is not as large. There will be no band nor extensive decorations, but there are no schools in the state where better work is being done and none that better deserve the recognition of the presence of many friends. The evening drawing school is a very interesting and valuable institution, and it is gratifying to note that three-fourths of the work is done out of school, and when one graduates at the end of a three years' course filled up with such persistent and earnest work he is not only master of a profession, but he has taken a course which is worthy of all commendation. A case of drawing instruments is given annually by Mr. S. H. Thompson of the Thompson Hardware company to the young man of the machine class who has done the best work."

The evening drawing school, with the cooperation of the school board and the Lowell Art association, will hold a public exhibition of its work at the Whistler house at the close of the term. A year ago an exhibition of the work done in all the day schools was held, and proved something of a revelation to many who saw it.

The exhibition of the evening drawing school is likely to prove as great a surprise. The really excellent work that is being done by these night pupils is quite unknown to the majority of our citizens, who have only the vaguest notion as to its scope or extent.

ACTOR DISAPPEARS

Leaving Good Position and Wardrobe Behind Him

The management and members of the Donald Meek stock company are wondering what has become of John Alexander, a New York actor, who mysteriously disappeared from this city on February 17th after rehearsing with the company for two days.

Mr. Alexander was engaged as a "heavy" man and was to have opened with the company in "The Girl of the Golden West" and had been given the part of "Jack Rance," the sheriff. He came to town with his baggage and wardrobe and on Feb. 14, after securing a room at the Richardson hotel reported at the theatre. He rehearsed with the company on the two days following, but on the third day failed to appear. After waiting a reasonable length of time for him to put in an appearance the management made inquiries at the hotel and learned that he had walked out of the hotel on the morning of the 17th and had never returned, leaving his trunks behind him. Then New York was looked up but up to date he has not appeared in that city. Meanwhile his mail comes regularly to the Hathaway theatre as if he were still there.

When Mr. Alexander did not put in an appearance on Friday Mr. W. H. Thompson of the Donald Meek stock company was given the part and on two days' notice he gave an excellent interpretation of it.

Alexander is a man about 30 years of age, six feet tall, dark complexion and possessed of a striking stage presence. He has played in several well known road and stock companies and was an actor of considerable ability. He had no considerable amount of money with him when he disappeared, and the members of the company are at a loss to account for his disappearance. He was to have been here permanently at a good salary.

BATTLE FOUGHT

Both Sides Lost at Casas
Grande

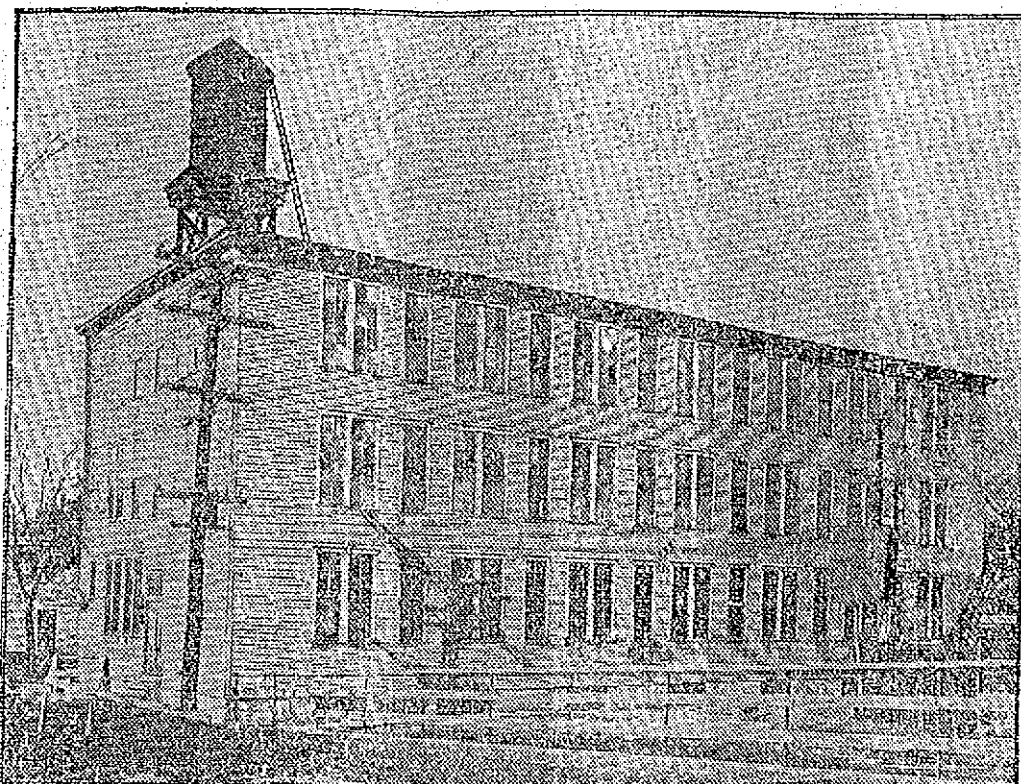

EL PASO, Texas, March 9.—The battle fought at Casas Grande on Monday, in which the force under Madero was routed by the federal troops, under Col. Cuellar, lasted the entire day with heavy casualties on both sides, according to an American mining man who claims to have seen the engagement. The force engaged on each side is said to have been six hundred men. Madero's men are said to have succeeded in reaching the outskirts of the town, where they opened a heavy fire on the garrison. While a portion of his force held the insurgents in check, Cuellar led the remainder of his force in a flank movement that placed the insurgents under a cross fire.

Madero received a small reinforcement during the engagement and was able to hold his position until darkness fell, when he succeeded in withdrawing his men under a heavy fire from machine guns.

Madero is said to have lost three machine guns, a large quantity of ammunition and many horses.

The many friends of George Goudreau of Howard street will be pleased to learn that he is improving and on the way to recovery, after undergoing a serious operation at the Lowell hospital.

THE PEABODY BUILDING ON WEST ADAMS STREET

To Start With 500 Hands on West
Adams Street

The Field-Lumber shoe company of Boston and Brockton will soon establish a new branch of its plant in this city, and will occupy John W. Peabody's building at 21 West Adams street.

The company has taken a five year lease and the papers were signed last night. It is expected that the new industry will establish itself here within ten days.

After making necessary repairs at the building, the company will install new, up-to-date machinery and start the manufacture of men's shoes.

The number of hands to be employed will be between 400 and 500, with a possibility of increasing that number later. W. A. Lumber and G. M. Goggin, the latter coming from the company's plant in Maine, have the Lowell branch in charge.

The concern will have an output of 1200 to 1500 pairs of shoes per day, and this output will be subject to expansion when possible. The building in West Adams street is 122 feet long by 52 feet wide, and is three stories in height, besides the basement.

IN POLICE COURT

Young Men Charged With Breaking a Show Case

Frank M. Donohoe, John M. Tighe, and Joseph Coyle, three young men of good appearance, were brought before Judge Hadley this morning to answer to a complaint charging them with being drunk. The defendants pleaded not guilty and asked for a continuance until tomorrow, which was granted.

The trio, it is claimed, were coming down Central street last night, when near Chalifoux's store, it is alleged that one of them put his foot through the glass show case which stands on the outside of the store, and then the whole three started on a run. Officer Michael Clancy, who was in the vicinity at the time, chased the trio and succeeded in capturing two of the gang. The latter were taken to the box, and a call for the patrol was sent in. In the meantime, the third member put in an appearance and was trying to tell the officer what a mistake he was making when Officer Petrie laid his hand on him and sent him to headquarters.

Committee on Education Visited
Institution Today

The legislative committee on education, Charles Brown of Medford, chairman, came to Lowell this afternoon to visit the Textile school. The committee came from Boston on the one o'clock train and will visit the school again this evening in order to compare the day and evening courses.

The trustees of the school have invited the members of the city council to visit the school before the closing of the evening classes. The invitation of the trustees was announced by Chairman Gallagher of the board of aldermen at a meeting of the board last Tuesday evening, and was passed on to the common council. Members of both boards got together and decided to visit the school tomorrow evening.

ADVANCE OF ARMY

U. S. Troops Being Despatched
With All Possible Haste

General Wood Receives Word
That His Orders Are Being
Carried Out—The Staff Officers
Are Enjoying a Respite Today
—Capt. Hagood to Join Staff
of Major Carter

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Still under guise of peaceful field maneuvers, the advance of the army toward the southern frontier, is proceeding in perfect order. Numerous telegrams are being received by General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, reporting that his sudden and comprehensive orders, flashed from the capital only three days ago, are being carried out with rapidity and precision. The staff officers, having set the machinery in motion, are enjoying a respite today. The telegraphic advices indicate that all of the men ordered out are now moving rapidly southward with ample commissary and ammunition supplies.

Captain Johnson Hagood of the coast artillery and a member of the general staff, has been ordered to San Antonio to join the staff of Major General Carter, commander of the army division which is being concentrated at that point. Captain Hagood's departure will be delayed a few days in order that he may clear up several odds and ends of military matters—the aftermath of legislation by the last session of congress. He is the legislative expert of the general staff. The navy also is carrying out its part of the operations without any semblance of a hitch. The vessels of the fifth division of the Atlantic fleet have been supplied with full complements and are prepared to sail for Guantanamo at the drop of the hat by the secretary of the navy.

The real purpose of the unprecedented movement of soldiers, sailors and marines is still enshrouded in a cloud of mystery. Official Washington persists in the previous announcement that the movement is a technical military experiment to try the efficiency of the fight resources of the nation and that it has no relation to the Mexican situation.

MAYOR MEEHAN

Is Opposed to Proposed
Charter

At a meeting of the men of St. John's Episcopal church, last night, William H. Wilson, Esq., said that Mayor John F. Meehan was opposed to the proposed new charter because the mayor believed that he (Mr. Wilson) would be a candidate for mayor under that charter.

Mayor Meehan, after reading the statement this morning said to a reporter: "In considering the proposed new charter, I never considered Mr. Wilson. I do not think that Mr. Wilson could be nominated for mayor under any charter."

"I am opposed to the new charter on many grounds, but I do not propose to discuss it to any extent at this time. I believe in government by the many, not by the few. To my mind the proposed new charter is not by any means the ideal form of city government and I think it will not be denied that I have as much regard for the welfare of my native city as has Mr. Wilson."

RECIPROCITY VOTE YOUNG AMERICAN

Premier Laurier Sustained by the Canadian Parliament Said to Have Been Swindled Out of $52,000

OTTAWA, Ont., March 9.—The strength of the government's position on reciprocity was shown in a vote taken in the house last night on a motion yesterday by R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition, that as American action on the agreement has been delayed the matter be not taken up by the Canadian parliament "until the electors shall have had an opportunity of passing on its merits."

The motion to defer action was supported by 50 members and opposed by 112, the government majority being 42. Only two liberals broke away and voted with the opposition. They were Messrs. Sifton and Harris, who have been opposed to reciprocity from the first.

The intense interest in the situation was shown by an unusually large number of members present to vote early in the evening.

In the debate preceding the vote Finance Minister Fielding, replying to R. L. Borden, said:

"We have made a pact of honor in the name of the people of Canada with the United States to pass upon this agreement as soon as we reasonably can."

The motion of Mr. Borden was regarded as the first formal step by the opposition to delay ratification of the agreement by parliament until congress shall have finally pronounced upon it.

In support of his motion Mr. Borden said that nothing would be lost by delay. The democrats, who were coming into power at Washington, were pledged to lower the American tariff and it was most inopportune for Canada to confirm the agreement at present.

The president of the United States is loyally keeping his compact with Canada," replied Minister Fielding, "and he has even gone to the extraordinary step of calling an extra session of congress to keep faith with the government of Canada. For parliament to accept the motion made by Mr. Borden would mean that we should have violated our own honor. Shame on the suggestion!"

"Canada has been trapped before," said George O. Foster, a leading member of the opposition, "into endorsing propositions which the American senate has afterwards rejected and should not be caught again."

The debate on the resolution to ratify the agreement was resumed after the evening vote by Lloyd Harris, liberal, who spoke against reciprocity.

LADIES' SOCIETY

SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT AT FIRST TRINITARIAN

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the First Trinitarian Congregational church held its regular monthly meeting in the vestry last evening with a supper and entertainment. The entertainment consisted of piano selections by Miss Gertrude Merrill; skith, "Why We Never Marry," given by the following: Misses Lena A. Cloyd, Charlotte F. Sherman, Helen M. Wood, Lilian E. Noyce, Emily B. Wrigley, Eleanor M. Clifford, Elsie M. Craig, and Messrs. E. F. Farnham, Albert A. Ludwig, Arvid P. Christianson, Edward E. Stanley, Irving M. Snyder, Raymond Coffin and Walter Kitchen; a reading by Miss Grace Howe was most entertaining and piano selections by Miss Merrill followed. "A Living Musical Sheet," presented by Mrs. Frank L. Haddley, Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mrs. H. F. Shirley, Mrs. John Thorne and Mrs. C. V. Hazeltine, was also well received. Games were played and there was a general good time during the evening.

PARIS, March 9.—Three men claiming to be Italian noblemen were arrested here today charged with having swindled Lelven Hart, a young American out of $52,000. The prisoners gave the names of Borelli, Carminatti and he says, that the men by the use of marked cards and other devices robbed him of his entire fortune.

According to the story told by Hart, he met the strangers at his hotel in the Place De L'Etoile and was introduced by them at various gambling clubs. During the visit to these places he says, that the men by the use of marked cards and other devices robbed him of his entire fortune.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Considering Appeals for Pardon of Morse and Walsh

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Taft will leave for the south today. He will take with him for final consideration the appeals for pardon which have been made by John R. Walsh and Charles W. Morse. The president will study the cases in the quiet of his short vacation, and before he returns to Washington both men probably will know whether they are to be free or to stay in federal penitentiaries.

Attorney General Wickensham, after several weeks of investigation of both cases, will turn over all the papers to the president today with his recommendation.

Walsh, now in the Leavenworth, Kansas, prison, will be eligible for release on parole under the new law next September. He then will have served one-third of his five-year sentence. His attorneys say that if the aged banker is not released before that time he may never live to enjoy his liberty.

Morse, in the Atlanta prison, has served a little more than one year of a 15-year sentence and could not be paroled until 1915. Influence has been brought to bear, at least to obtain a commutation of his sentence to five years, which would permit his discharge after two years and eight months more of imprisonment, making allowances for good behavior.

EX-Senator Hale of Maine has taken an active interest in Morse's behalf, and he presented to President Taft Mrs. Morse's petition for the release of her husband.

The contention in his case is that the sentence of 15 years was excessive. Although the first court found him guilty and sentenced him on three counts, the higher courts cleared him of two charges, but the sentence for all three was allowed to stand.

Attorney General Wickensham's recommendations are confidential to the president, but it is understood the attitude of the department of justice is in favor of granting clemency.

COLONEL BRYAN

Spoke at a Legislative Hearing

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—William Jennings Bryan made an unexpected appearance yesterday at a legislative hearing where he spoke in favor of the bill under consideration, fostered by the democrats, calling for a constitutional amendment giving registered voters the right to vote for all candidates for public office and abolishing the property qualification of the voting law. The Nebraskan, after listening to the arguments, took the floor and went on record as in favor of such legislation, citing the state government of Oregon as an ideal example of government by the people.

In an address before the members of the Brown elite school, Mr. Bryan discussed governmental topics and sought to show wherein a democracy is the best kind of government.

"We have a disease in the body politic, the disease of misrepresentation," he said. "The people demand the initiative to relieve this abuse. We need the initiative, the referendum and the recall to make our representatives act justly and to overrule the lobbyists."

"Those who do not want the initiative, referendum and recall, either believe the masses have not the capacity for self government or are representatives of the special interests to which these measures are antagonistic."

Col. Bryan met Gov. Aram J. Potter at the state house and later was the dinner guest of the Rev. Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth, pastor of Trinity Union Methodist Episcopal church. His lecture, "The Prince of Peace," was delivered in infancy hall last evening.

GOVERNOR DIX

Did Not Order Whitman to Withdraw

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—Gov. Dix denied the report that he has ordered District Attorney Whitman of New York to withdraw from the investigation of the affairs of the Carnegie Trust Co. or that the district attorney had been superseded by Attorney-General Carmody.

According to the governor, no such letter was written and Attorney-General Carmody said today that so far as he is concerned, no instructions have come to him from the governor.

"I have received no communication from Gov. Dix," said the attorney-general, "and know nothing about such a letter that the governor is reported to have written District Attorney Whitman."

Governor Dix said that it was his understanding that Mr. Whitman was coming to Albany to confer with Attorney-General Carmody relative to the investigation.

TRIED TO ESCAPE

Revolver Stopped the Flight of Fred Bartell

RUTLAND, Vt., March 9.—At the point of a revolver in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Pascale Ricci, Fred Bartell, 40 years old, was arrested at Castleton yesterday on a warrant from Watertown, N. Y., charging him with bigamy.

Bartell, who is a stone mason, and who has formerly worked at this trade in the vicinity of Rutland, has been sought some time by the Watertown authorities. He has been employed on the farm of Allen Thornton, near Castleton.

When arrested yesterday he was washing himself in the kitchen of the farmhouse and as soon as he learned the mission of the deputy sheriff he asked permission to go to the barn to see his employer. The request was granted and a few seconds later, when Ricci placed from the window, he saw his man making efforts to lower the walls of the barn for the half-mile.

Ricci gave chase and fired two bullets over Bartell's head when the latter did not obey his command to stop. The fugitive, who weighs more than 200 pounds, halted upon hearing the report of the revolver, but when his captor approached he drew a heavy bottle from his pocket and threatened to christen him with it.

Upon a closer scrutiny of the gun, Bartell meekly permitted his hands to be handcuffed and himself to be lodged in the Rutland county jail.

Bartell spent Tuesday night at the Elmore with his wife, who had come to Rutland in search of him. Yesterday he returned to Castleton, where Dep. Ricci nabbed him. It is claimed that Bartell has served time in Dannemora prison in New York state. It is also claimed that he has several wives distributed about the country.

It is expected that officers from Watertown will arrive in Rutland today to take him back. According to police officials Bartell maintains his innocence and has expressed a willingness to meet his accusers.

FINE CONCERT

GIVEN AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There was a concert given and old time songs were sung last evening at the First Baptist church by the young members of that church under the direction of John C. McKelvey, and certainly it reflected great credit on Mr. McKelvey's ability as a director. The mixed chorus included nearly one hundred people. The songs were all very pleasant, and the solo work was certainly very fine, particularly that of Miss Katherine Gordon, and the rendering of "Annie Laurie" by Miss Ella Thompson was exceptionally fine. Miss Ethel P. Truworthy gave an excellent reading which showed her great talent in that line. Mr. McKelvey also sang in his usual pleasing voice the beautiful old ballad "Massa's in de Cold Ground." The program was as follows:

"Old Folks at Home," Chorus.

Cornet solo, Mr. James Morrison.

"My Bonnie," Chorus.

Katherine Gordon.

"He's a College Boy," Chorus.

Horatius Leggett and Chorus.

TALKED ON CHARTER

W. H. Wilson Addresses St. John's Men's Club

The men of St. John's Episcopal church held an interesting meeting last evening at which the advantages of the proposed new city charter were explained by William H. Wilson. The other speakers were Rev. James Bancroft, pastor of St. John's, who presided, and Rev. Allan C. Ferrin of the High Street Congregational church.

Mr. Wilson was the first speaker and in opening he stated that since Galveston has started the change in the form of city government, about 100 cities had followed, and in every case government by commissions has been a success.

Separate Licensing Power

Under the proposed charter, Mr. Wilson said, five men will do all of the city business now done by the mayor and city council, and in addition, the police department will come under the new government, leaving the police board with the licensing power only. The separation of police and licensing power under the new commission was emphasized.

As to the political feature, Mr. Wilson said: "I am a democrat, I have always felt that control in the hands of a few is a menace. Unsatisfactory conditions existing at large today I attribute to the tariff. The republican party has given splendid government, and our people have been the happiest on the face of the globe under republican control. But what has that got to do with city government? Nothing."

"Today we have a peculiar situation at city hall—the unusual spectacle of a republican common council, a democratic board of aldermen and a democratic mayor in power."

"It is strange," said Mr. Wilson, "that we go to state and national elections in large numbers to vote, but when it comes to local elections we stay away and let incompetents crowd their way into city hall. Did you ever stop to think that the city of Lowell expends $1,600,000 a year? With a good city government and a low tax rate, just think of the possibilities of Lowell as a city! We want Lowell to grow, and in order that it may grow, we want to create conditions that will be an incentive to men of business, to big industries, to come to Lowell.

"The system is all wrong. The mayor ought to be the executive head of the city, but as it is, he is nearly powerless. Suppose the mayor has a recommendation to make to the police force, that is where his power ends. He has no jurisdiction over the men he names to the commission, while they remain in office."

Under the new charter there would be better discipline and more efficiency because the man in charge would be directly responsible to the people for the businesslike administration of the police department.

"Suppose there was an incompetent in the fire department, who would correct the trouble? Not the mayor, for the simple reason that he lacks the power. I believe the chief, acting with the board of engineers, would have to take the point is to center responsibility to the end that there may be no delay, no confusion in the transaction of the city's business."

"We come to the street department and what do we find? Out on the streets we find men put to work by members of the common council, the board of aldermen and the mayor himself. Oftentimes these men are put to work for political purposes. Debts of a political nature must be paid."

"As to the authority of the mayor over departments, let me say that when the city council parcels out the money to the different departments, the control of that money by the mayor and city council practically ceases. The mayor has no power to interfere, the city council cannot act unless it recalls the money voted, or elects new men, and you have never heard of this being done. The man who suffers most because of all this is the man who owns a little home."

I was talking with the mayor the other day, and he asked me if I was a candidate for mayor. I answered "What of it if I am?" But let me assure you, I am not, and have never entertained the thought of being a candidate.

Why Mayor is Opposed

I am interested in this new charter simply because I would like to see the money raised by taxation expended to the best advantage. I believe that money will grow in every direction, I believe that under the new charter, Lowell will not owe a cent in 20 years."

"I know a man at city hall who every year has to give up his work for the time being to look after his job. This year he will be handicapped more than usual, the case because of the unusual political uncertainties existing. Such a condition would not be possible under the new charter."

"The politicians are out against this charter. That is a good argument in itself. The mayor is opposed to it because he thinks I might be a candidate."

Rev. Mr. Ferrin

Rev. Allan C. Ferrin was next introduced and he spoke briefly on the new charter, saying that it will mean increased business efficiency, and what is more important from his point of view—a higher moral life for the city.

"I believe democracy and Christianity synonymous," said Mr. Ferrin, "because democracy is a plea for the right of men. If you stop to think of it, Christ gave His life for the rights of men. I am not a democrat in the political sense, but I believe in the broader interpretation, with the motto, 'progress of all, through all, under the leadership of the wisest and best,' constantly before us. I believe this points to the ideal condition in our government as a city and as a nation. Standing by the old local governmental condition certainly cannot make for progress. I am positive that under present conditions a man in the city government does not always follow his best judgment. His hands are tied. We propose to untie his hands by creating new conditions which will clarify the atmosphere and make it possible for him to give to the city the best that is in him. I have faith in the Christian men of America, and I am confident that all cities will advance in their municipal and moral life as time passes."

Rev. James Bancroft thanked the speakers and urged all to vote on the question of a new charter in the event of its reference to the people next fall. Refreshments were served and a special hour enjoyed.

STARVING BOY
Found in Attic of Old Shack

HACKENSACK, N. J., March 9.—A twelve year old boy, whose body was shrunk by ill nourishment almost to the outline of his skeleton, was found stark naked yesterday in the cold and bare attic of an old shack in the Ramapo mountains near here. Five of his ribs were gone from the effects of freezing and he snatched at food like a little beast.

The case was discovered by agents of the Bergen county Children's society who caused the arrest of the boy's father, William Jennings. He was committed to jail, charged with keeping the lad a prisoner in the attic of his shack where, it is alleged, he fed him just enough to keep him alive.

The child was brought to the Hackensack hospital last night, where amputation of both legs will probably be necessary.

MANY PETITIONS

Considered by Street Committee

The first meeting of the street committee for 1911, Aldermen Barrett and Connors and Councilmen Bowers, Davis, Elliott, Genest and Brady, was held last night and many petitions for street improvements were considered. A number of the petitions were from the city governments of 1909 and 1910 and in most cases hearings on the petitions were ordered.

The proposed work of cutting down the grade of Knapp avenue was explained by Mr. Cassidy, representing E. W. Dowdell of Boston. City Engineer Bowers thought it would cost about $2500 to cut it down and about $5000 to finish it.

Mr. Cassidy favored a 20-foot path to allow the residents of Wigginsville to reach the park rather than a regular street for vehicles. It was voted to have a view of the avenue followed by a hearing.

The petition of Charles S. Johnson and others that Rogers' street from Nesmith street to Boylston street be widened was read. The idea is to take 10 feet from the Sheild park side of the street, most of which would be given to the city. The committee voted a view and hearing.

The petition of Thomas P. Boyle and others that West Fifth avenue be graded was read. View and hearing ordered.

Petition for sidewalk of edgestones and cinders on westerly side of Dartmouth street; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that Summer street be paved; view voted.

Petition for a sidewalk on western side of Hildreth street; view and hearing ordered.

The joint order to macadamize portions of Alken avenue was read and a view ordered.

The petition that Otis street be macadamized was read and a view was voted.

The petition of P. O'Hearn and others that Riverside street be macadamized from New York street to Moody street was read and a view ordered.

A petition to pave Middlesex street with granite blocks from the junction of Pawtucket street to the city line was read and a view voted.

A petition that a portion of Mansur street be macadamized from West

Fourth street to Dartmouth street was read and a view voted.

A petition of George T. Fowler and others to pave Middlesex street with granite blocks from the junction with Middlesex street to the city line, was read and a view voted.

The petition to pave West Sixth street to the Braut line was read and a view ordered.

The petition that Church street be smoothed paved was read; view ordered.

A petition to accept Burton street was read and a view and hearing ordered.

Among the petitions left over from the government of last year, was the following:

Petition for paving of Central street from Appleton street to Bedford square with Hassam paving was read and a view ordered.

The plan of the Lowell Board of Trade to pave certain streets for the next five years was read and discussed.

A petition that street watering in Humphreys street be discontinued was read; view and hearing ordered.

Petition to macadamize Lincoln street from corner of Chelmsford and State to Tanner street; view ordered.

Petition that Exeter street be macadamized; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that a portion of Dalton street be macadamized; view ordered.

Petition that Melvin street be extended; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that White street be accepted; view and hearing voted.

Petition that Brookings street be laid out and accepted; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that a portion of Thordike street and Liberty square be Hassam paved; view ordered.

Petition relating to the grade of England street, entered by Patrick Joyce; view ordered.

Petition that Llewellyn street be accepted from First street to Reservoir street; view ordered.

Petition that East Merrimack street from Merrimack square to Nesmith street be paved; view ordered.

Petition that Button street be paved from Merrimack to Fletcher streets; view ordered.

Petition that Stromquist avenue be extended; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that Dundee street be accepted; view ordered.

Petition that Aberdeen street be accepted; view ordered.

Petition that Seventeenth street be accepted; view ordered.

Mr. Elliott thought that those streets which should have been put to grade two years ago be left untouched by the committee until other work had been considered.

Thomas McKee appeared to ask that a portion of Hillieria street be accepted. He said he understood that the matter was all settled until recently. A view of this was voted.

A petition to accept a portion of Christian street between Tenth and Richard streets was read; view ordered.

Petition that Christian street be laid out and accepted from Reservoir street to Tenth street; view ordered.

A joint order for the watering of streets was read and the committee recommended that it be adopted.

Mr. Putnam was asked if the price of street watering in all parts of the city is the same. He said it is not. The width of the street determines the cost. The watering cart drivers are supposed to go over the streets as often as possible.

Mr. Barrett said that the electric car sprinklers deluge Merrimack street, while in other sections not enough is thrown on. The car is driven too fast in Fletcher street, he said.

Mr. Putnam said the complaint on that street which had come to him was of an opposite nature. The conversation switched to paving blocks and Mr. Putnam said that he has between 400,000 and 600,000 paving blocks which have been used and which could be used again if they were cut down. This could be done for $17.50 a thousand, a substantial saving over what new blocks would cost.

Adjourned.

WHAT IS A COLD?

As long as the tiny cells which make up your body are healthy, you are healthy.

These cells are constantly breaking down—a single bending of your arm destroys thousands of them. But cells will quickly rebuild themselves if they obtain the proper materials from your diet.

When some of these materials are lacking, you say that you "catch cold" or "suffer" from sore throat, gripe and influenza.

The chemical elements which make up the cells of your body are the component parts of ALLEOTONE—a concentrated liquid cell food. Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Gripe, and all sickness caused by deficient cell material begin to yield to ALLEOTONE just as quickly as the cell food which ALLEOTONE contains can be assimilated.

Ordinarily your food will supply the body with the elements which ALLEOTONE contains, but when abnormal conditions make abnormal demands for them, it often takes a week or more for Nature, unassisted, to effect a cure. A few hours' treatment of ALLEOTONE will supply the cells first hand with the elements that are necessary to bring you quickly back to normal.

ALLEOTONE is absolutely harmless to both adults and children. As a preventive, it can do nothing but good, and on occasions when you fear that you are "about to take cold" a spoonful or two will dispel the danger. You should always have ALLEOTONE on hand to cope with colds, feverishness and sore throat.

GUN EXPERTS CONTESTING IN BIG NEW YORK TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, March 9.—Gun experts are having their inning here. One of

FROM THE ROAD

New Bedford Writer Places Lowell Second

Under the heading: "Why Lowell Should Land in Second Place," in a series of N. E. league articles in the New Bedford Times, Albert W. Keane, sporting editor, has the following to say:

No veterans from last year's club should prove enough to land second place for Manager Jimmy Gray and his Lowell team. From the opening day of the season Jimmy will have his seasoned stock and already has a well balanced team without going out to get recruits.

Although the Lowell fans and Manager Gray are depending on their veterans to land them up at the top rung of the ladder the plan of annexing youngsters has not been abandoned and when the players begin to romp at Spaulding park in April he will have no less than 26 youngsters trying out with his nine veterans.

Four crackling good pitchers are on the list and the staff ranks well with any on the circuit. Milton Wolfgang, the midge spit-baller, is a Class A performer and so is big Yount, another who came down from the big show. Al Whitridge will be there with the spit ball. But the one best bet is William Duval, the thespian student, who twirled such fine ball for Al Wint two years ago. So Gray is not worrying about his staff of mound men.

Has Promising Recruits
But he has got some fine youngsters among whom are Frank Quinn of Albany, N. Y.; John Sullivan, of New York city; Edward Flanagan, Sydney Sheridan and Percy Still.

The catching staff is also back, and with Harry Huston as the first string man and "Bricktop" Sullivan as the alternate, the backstopping department ranks with that of the Lynn club. There is no weakness in this spot, but Gray has three youngsters who aspire to don the big mitt, wind pad, and mask in the New England. They are Connolly of Chelsea, William Magee of North Andover, and E. J. Sullivan of Clinton, New York. They have little chance to make good.

There's one big hole at first base to fill. Fred Tenney did the job to the queen's taste, provided she is not too particular, but season. No matter who lands the job, he will fall several notches short of being Tenney's equal. Gray claims to have a phenom in John Dugan of Atlantic, Mass., and good men to try out in Alexander Taggart of East Orange, N. J.; W. H. Manning of Worcester, and J. R. Shaw of Boston. This will probably be the weak spot in the Lowell club.

There's only one choice for second base, and to me he looks to be the best second sacker on the circuit. Last year Cunningham was his only superior around the midway station, and in spite of all that is said to the contrary, Manager Gray expects to have Captain Frank Fitzgerald covering the middle cushion. He is a good hitter, base runner, and an ideal man to lead a team during a hard battle.

Cooney is Erratic

There's only one choice for short-stop, and that's Bill Cooney. Bill ranked about third among the short-stops last year, playing an erratic game. He is not a star, nor is he a common player. He's just "betwixt and between," filling in very nicely on the Lowell club although his position be classed as a spot which could be strengthened, but Gray is satisfied, as he fits into a cog in the Lowell machine.

Jakey Boutles, third sacker last season, will have two rivals for the honor of holding down the hot corner. Jake does not care much whether or not he gets the position, for if he does not Gray will shift him over on the pitching squad. Jake is a cracking man around third, but a little inclined to play to the stand.

One of the boys who will be pitted against Boutles is named Morgan the largest trap shooting events ever held in this vicinity is now in progress in connection with the sportsmen's show. Many of the crack shots of the country are on hand, and new scores are expected. Among the experts entered in the contests are Jim Elliott of Kansas City, one of the best known veterans now before the public; Thos. Keller of this city, Charles Minks of Philadelphia, Jack Fanning of Chicago, W. J. Wright, champion wing shot of New Jersey; Walter Hinds of Portland, Me., and Joe Whitley of Jersey City. The tournament will continue until March 13.

Evans and hangs his hat in Olyphant, Pa. He played on the Cooperstown, N. Y. club with Bill Cunningham three years ago and the Senator says he is a good ball tosser but not fast enough to displace Boutles. The other would-be Lowell idol is Albert Carroll from Uinctown, Pa.

The outfield looks solid as a rock. With Jim Magee, one of the best hitters and fielders in this league, covering left and the stocky Fluharty, mighty swatter looking after the right garden, Jim Blakey should have no trouble in making good in center if he is let out to Lowell.

If he is not the middle garden may be a trifle weak, but Gray has signed up Rossman, brother of the famed Claude, and three others named Silver, Vaughn, Wham and Stney for chances in the outworks of the defence and may develop a wonder.

And last of all let's hand something to Jimmy Gray, the manager who's always bubbling over with enthusiasm. He is so full of this spirit that he injects it into his men and it is this spirit which wins many a ball game for the Tigers.

So I pick Lowell for second place.

Mr. Keane is not aware of the fact that Duval, Blakey and Fitzpatrick are very doubtful members of the team and he overlooks the fact that Paul Howard may yet be with us.

BOXING GOSSIP

The Queen City A. C. of Manchester, N. H. has arranged one of the greatest boxing shows ever staged in this section of the country for next Wednesday evening. It will be an all star show and will consist of three ten round bouts. In the waterweight class, Kid Shes of South Boston, who has been coming to the front with great rapidity, will tackle Terry Martin, the Manchester favorite. Johnny Glover, another So. Boston boy, and a favorite with Manchester fans will tackle the hard hitting and aggressive Joff Doherty of New Haven, Conn. In a bout in the lightweight class, Johnny Gallant of Boston, and Nap Dufresne, the Canadian featherweight champion, will meet in another bout. They will settle a long standing dispute as to who is the real feather champion.

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

Held an Adjourned Meeting This Afternoon

The committee on accounts met in the office of the city auditor shortly after the noon hour yesterday and went over the bills held up at the meeting of the committee, held Monday night. A big raft of bills was held up at that meeting and all were passed today with the exception of the following: A plumbing bill of $14.51, presented by M. J. Julliany. The price of one item in this bill, a 2 by 2 T, was held to be excessive. The price was $6.70 and it was passed by the superintendent of lands and buildings. The committee said that the price should have been 66 cents.

The bill of Will J. Sandow of $200 for consultation relative to the new pump for the Centralville pumping station was also held to be excessive and the committee allowed that the water board should scale it down. A bill of $7.50 for a pencil sharpener for the wire department was held up on the ground that the sharpener was not needed in that department.

The bill of $200 by Collins & Hogan for appraisals land on the boulevard wanted by the water department for new wells was considered excessive and the committee said it was up to the water department to trim it a bit.

The bill for $40 for a boy's tuition at the Industrial school in Lawrence was held up on the ground that the boy did not have a residence in this city.

In the absence of Ald. Barrett, Councilman Fulton was made temporary chairman.

PRESIDENT MELLEN'S FORESIGHT

President Mellen of the New Haven railroad, by acquiring control of a number of connecting lines to the north, is laying the foundation for more extensive trade between Canada and the New England states, particularly the port of Boston. This, no doubt, is done with a view to handling the increased volume of business that will be developed under reciprocity with Canada. There will be more goods shipped to Canada, and more shipped from Canada to the States than formerly. There will be a great boom in business between the two countries, and the railroads will undoubtedly be benefited, while they will at the same time be helping to promote prosperity on both sides of the Canadian border. Moreover these new links in the system will connect Boston with the great lakes and the trunk lines to the west, something that will vastly benefit the commercial interests of New England, more especially of Boston.

THE UNIONIST CLAPTRAP

The Unionists of England are severely criticising Ambassador Bryce for the part he took in arranging a conference between the United States and Canadian authorities for the purpose of bringing about the reciprocity measure. In point of fact Mr. Bryce only exercised the usual diplomatic courtesy of his office in arranging for the conference as desired by both governments. The Unionists are using the annexation talk for political purposes in England. They are endeavoring to make it appear that reciprocity will mean annexation later on, something which is utterly absurd.

There was a good deal of foolish talk about annexation by a number of American politicians who should have shown better judgment; but the Liberal leaders of England have truthfully pointed out that the responsible officials of both governments simply laugh at the idea of annexation. It is to be hoped that none of this political claptrap will be allowed to jeopardize the reciprocity agreement pending between the United States and Canada.

THE YEGG AND HIS EVOLUTION

In the execution of the two Lynn bandits there was a striking lesson for young men who may be disposed to embark upon a career of law-breaking. One of the bandits was a youth of 18 years of age who had been brought up by his parents to respect authority and obey all just laws, human and divine. From statements made by this young man it appears that his mother exercised the greatest care over his early training, and on his departure for this country, some three years ago, she presented him with a prayer book and cautioned him to be attentive to his religious duties. After coming here he fell in with bad company, one of the worst of his associates being the man who was executed at the same time, known as Wassili Ivankowski. This was a thoroughly bad man, although he was only 22 years old. He was an atheist, an anarchist, a revolutionist, a desperado, and apparently everything else that is bad. He continued to blaspheme everything sacred and everybody with whom he came in contact except his associate in the Lynn crime, young Ipsen. He died with an oath on his lips.

One thing to be remarked about him was that he was an inveterate cigarette smoker. He smoked cigarettes when he could secure them, with an avidity that was really shocking. The cigarette habit must have affected his mental faculties, and may have been responsible for much of the desperation shown both before and during his imprisonment.

But as for Ipsen he was thoroughly repentant. He lamented the misfortune that had befallen him, and the affliction it would bring to his mother and family to hear of his sad fate, only a few years after he had left his home to seek his fortune. He wrote a most affecting letter to his mother, and one that contained a great deal that should be heeded by young men who under one impulse or another might be led to start upon a criminal career through the influence of bad company.

There is no doubt whatever that many young men are led astray by their associates. Ivankowski was a Russian nihilist, and being from the same country as Ipsen he had little difficulty in controlling this simple youth from the farm in Poland. Lack of work, and as Ipsen stated, very often the pangs of hunger, were among the things that led him to join Ivankowski's gang which committed the double murder and robbery in Lynn. The fate of Ipsen is a lesson to all young men who are liable to be led astray by evil associations.

The two men were given a shorter time after their sentence than any other murderers we know of in this state. There was no sympathy for them from any quarter. There never is for the so-called "yegg," because the man who adopts a criminal career and equips himself to kill those who may attempt to thwart him in his robberies deserves only the severest penalty of the law. It is to be hoped that the execution of these men and the summary methods adopted in dealing with some others will result in stamping out this species of outlaw.

But on the other hand we have a word to say in behalf of such well disposed young men, as Ipsen undoubtedly was, although found in the company of a gang of murderers in the city of Lynn. In his farewell letter to his mother, Ipsen said it was untrue that gold could be picked up on the streets in this country, and that young men could live much happier in the old home even though they were not so well dressed as here. That showed that Ipsen in common with others are deluded by the prospects held out to induce them to emigrate. Emigration agents, and it may be padrones in the employ of some textile factory in Massachusetts, have been responsible for bringing thousands of people from Europe with but slight prospect of finding employment when they come here. It is a fact that some of the men so deluded become highwaymen because driven to desperation by want and lack of employment. It seems that our government is responsible, at least indirectly, for allowing the people of foreign countries to be imposed upon in this manner. This government should disseminate literature abroad sufficient to counteract any false stories circulated by emigration agencies.

SEEN AND HEARD

Spring begins Tuesday, March 21. Cheer up!

Six members of the present board of aldermen are teetotalers; three of the six do not use tobacco. The chairman of the board is president of the Mathew-Temperance Institute.

People always impose on the good-natured man, but that doesn't mean that the man who always has a grouch doesn't sometimes get imposed on.

When you think you are having hard luck, does it make you feel any better to think that probably somebody is having harder luck than you are?

Cheer up! In a few months or weeks now your life insurance premium will be due.

Everybody has a kindly feeling for the man who has a trusting disposition, particularly if he is a grocer.

When a man is called upon for an after-dinner speech, and gets up and begins by saying: "I—er—didn't expect to be called on—er—tough, and I—er—have nothing to—er—say," why doesn't everybody around the table join in singing out in chorus: "All right! Sit down!"

"It is hard," says Colonel Henry Waterson, "to lose the savings of a lifetime." Has Colonel Henry been buying preferred stock in western gold mines, too?

Have you noticed that the dates on your calendar sheet for March are the same as for February? Both months came in on Wednesday and your February sheet is all right for March until you go beyond the 28th day.

It happened in a town in the United States which, for the sake of argument, may be called Bingville. A registered letter, with a large sum of money in it arrived there for Caruso. He went to the postoffice to get it, and presented his passport.

"Insufficient proof," said the clerk. Caruso insisted. He told his name, showed all kind of papers, and got very angry; but the clerk was obdurate.

"No good," he said. "But look here, if you really are Caruso, sing and prove it, otherwise you'll have to come back tomorrow."

There was no help for it, and Caruso sang the famous aria from the third act of "La Tosca." It was warmly applauded by the clerk, and the one with the registered letter handed it out to him, saying:

"We knew you all right, Mr. Caruso; but we can't afford $10 to hear you sing, so we thought that we'd have the treat for nothing."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Grenfell, the Labrador missionary, before he sailed for this country from England, was received by King George, who, with him regarding his work in the far north. The king is especially interested in seafaring men and has much knowledge of the hardships of the Labrador fisherman. He displayed keen interest in the work of American nurses in the Labrador.

In clearing out rubbish from the "Stormfield" attic after the departure of Mr. Clemens' daughter, Mrs. Ossip Gabrilovitch, Mr. Paine came upon a set of photographic records of Mark Twain's voice, containing his seventieth birthday speeches, which had been missing since the removal from 21 Fifth Avenue in New York to Redding and given up as lost. Mr. Ferrar Fenton is a British scholar who has spent a small fortune in preparing a translation of a Bible in "modern English." Mr. Fenton declares that he could make a great deal of money if he had been willing to trim his version in accordance with the tenets of some particular denominations. One English congregation offered $500 for an adaptation of the Old Testament to their own peculiar needs. From the United States came an offer of $25,000 for a similar tailor-made version of the New Testament.

Harry W. Smith, Worcester's inveterate fox hunter, is to visit Ireland in November to pursue his favorite sport, and will take along his two packs of fox hunters. He prefers the Irish foxhounds, to which his packs belong, to the foxhounds of England. It will be remembered that a few years ago Mr. Smith pitted his foxhounds against a Virginia pack of English foxhounds, and was pleased with the result.

ADVANCE OF ARMY

GEN. SCHUYLER
HAS BEEN ORDERED TO SAN ANTONIO

TUCSON, Ariz., March 9.—Brig. General Schuyler, commanding the department of the Colorado who came here Tuesday from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., received orders last night to proceed at once to San Antonio.

700 MARINES
SAILED FROM PHILADELPHIA FOR CUBA TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—More than 700 marines sailed today on the Prairie from the navy yard for Guantanamo, Cuba. The marines were drafted from Washington, Annapolis, Brooklyn, Boston, Newport and New London, and were rushed to this city following the order of mobilization of troops in Texas. Besides general stores, the Prairie is carrying south 375,000 rounds of ball cartridge. The transport Dixie which was ordered here from New York to take marines south arrived at the navy yard today and immediately preparations to load the vessel with stores were begun. The Dixie will sail within a day or two.

GENERAL MILLS
TO ASSUME COMMAND OF THE BRIGADE

ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—General A. L. Mills, commander of the department of the Gulf, accompanied by two of his aides, Lieut. S. C. Allen and Emilio Laurson, left last night for Galveston, where General Mills will assume command of the brigade to be mobilized there. He will be followed tomorrow by Col. Bartlett, chief of staff, and Major Bailey, quartermaster.

SAILING ORDERS
NOT YET RECEIVED BY TORPEDO FLOTILLA

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 9.—The 12 torpedo boats and destroyers composing the torpedo flotilla of the Pacific fleet finished coaling last night. The officers say that sailing orders have not yet been received. Brig. General Tasker Bliss, who will command the troops mobilized at the western end of the Mexican border, arrived late last night with his staff.

FLORIDA TROOPS
ARE ON THEIR WAY TO TEXAS

ENSACOLA, Fla., March 9.—Three hundred soldiers, including the 15th and 20th artillery, the Eighth artillery, band and the hospital corps, left for Galveston this morning. The equipment included ball cartridges. Orders were issued for all officers and men of other companies stationed here and who are on furlough to report for duty immediately.

UNITED STATES
NOT ASKED TO PROTECT FRENCH INTERESTS IN MEXICO

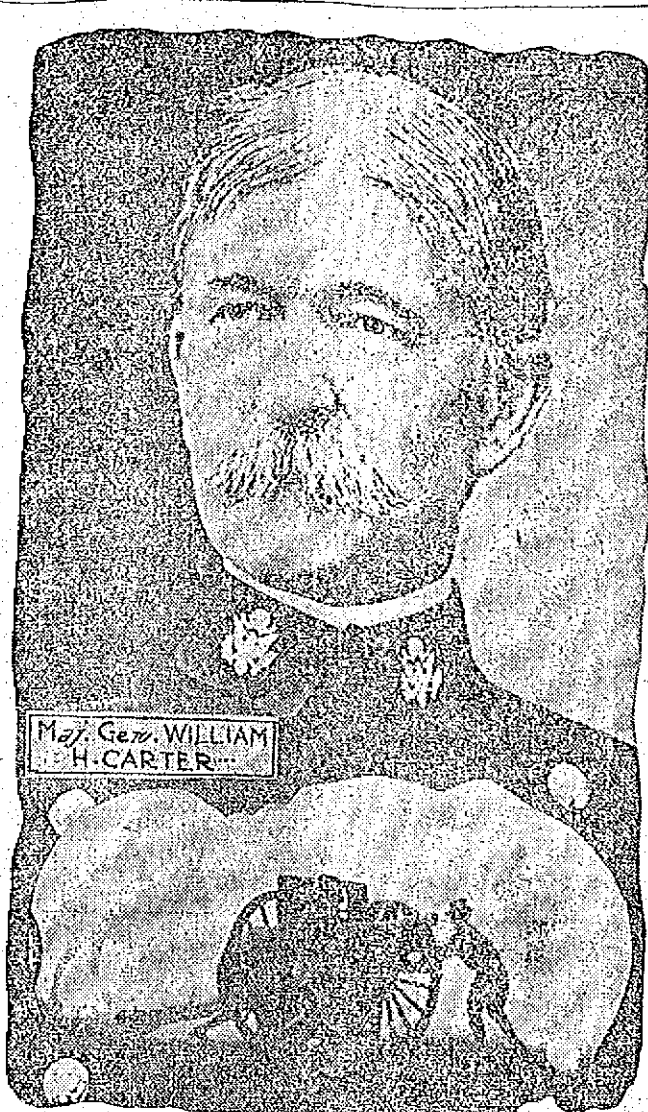

PARIS, March 9.—The officials of the foreign office today informed the Associated Press that the French government has made no representations to the United States regarding the protection of French interests in Mexico. News of the American action was received with extraordinary interest by the foreign office, where, in the absence of special advisers from Washington on the subject, it is assumed that the reasons for the step taken were wholly sufficient. Local financial interests are somewhat worried regarding events in Mexico, where, it is roughly estimated, this country has $100,000,000 invested. The explanation of the latest development current on the bourse is that the American government has in mind the ultimate possibility of being required to protect the immense American interests in Mexico.

TWO COMPANIES

BALTIMORE, Md., March 9.—Two companies of artillerymen from Fort Mifflin and Steikey left here this morning by rail for Fort Monroe, where they expected to embark for Texas.

BIG WARSHIPS
PREPARING TO SAIL FOR GULF OF MEXICO

NEW YORK, March 9.—A thick haze lay over New York Bay this morning, hiding from view the three big armored cruisers which have been making hurried preparations to sail for the Gulf of Mexico to participate in the joint naval and military movement in Texas. Coaling of the warships, the armored cruisers Tennessee, Montana and North Carolina, was completed last night and there were apparently no obstacles to the sailing of these units of the war fleet except the adverse atmospheric conditions and the low tide of the early morning hours. The ships were expected to up anchor and away at any moment.

The lower harbor, where Rear Admiral Stanton's trio of big cruisers were awaiting sailing orders, was the scene of a busy activity today in this vicinity in connection with the mobilization movement southward. The detachment of marines ordered from here to join the force headed for Guantanamo left yesterday, and last night the 1500 coast artillerymen from the harbor fort, mustered into a provisional infantry for service in Texas, sailed for Fort Monroe on the steamer Jamestown. Army officials stationed here were congratulating themselves today on the smoothness with which the work of getting men and supplies ready and hustling them off toward the scene of operations was accomplished.

SAN ANTONIO
PREPARED TO RECEIVE THE U. S. TROOPS
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 9.—

Everything is in readiness for the coming of U. S. troops to Fort Sam Houston. The first contingent, the 17th infantry from Fort McPherson under Col. Van Orsdale, is scheduled to arrive this afternoon. Ideal camping grounds await the coming of the army. The camp is skirted by two ridges with a knoll overlooking the entire field in the northeast corner. Here division headquarters will be located. The infantry brigades will be camped on the west ridge with the battalion of engineers and the signal corps to the north of them. Along the northern edge of the field will be the artillery and on the east ridge the cavalry.

The sanitation will be as near perfect as military skill can make it. Colonel Girard, chief surgeon of the department of Texas, visited the field today and authorized his approval. In only one particular are arrangements incomplete, that of an adequate water supply. The laying of water mains from San Antonio has been delayed for lack of funds available for this special work but this difficulty will be overcome. For several days after the advance guard arrives, however, it will probably be necessary to transport the water in wagons. For the manoeuvres ball cartridges, shrapnel and other business-like ordnance has been provided. Real ammunition in abundance is contained in the arsenal storehouses but so far no orders have been issued to have blank ammunition in readiness.

CIVIL SERVICE

Board to Meet Department Heads

Mayor Meehan has notified heads of departments to assemble in the mayor's reception room at 1.45 o'clock on the afternoon of March 16, to meet the civil service commissioners of Boston relative to matters pertaining to the service. The commission, early in the year, inaugurated a plan to visit the different cities throughout the state and talk with the mayors and heads of departments relative to the service, and the commission has already announced that its visits to other cities have proved very profitable and interesting to all concerned.

LOSS IS HEAVY
BUILDING IN CINCINNATI DESTROYED BY FIRE

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Fire early today destroyed the five-story building occupied by the Knickerbocker Ice Co. makers and dealers in plumbing supplies, at 426-428 Ninth street, entailing a loss estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000.

INFLUX OF GOLD

REDUCED BANK OF ENGLAND'S RATE OF DISCOUNT

LONDON, March 9.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was reduced from 3 1/2 to 3 per cent. today. The influx of gold and the return of cash from the country during the past week have so strengthened the bank's position that the directors found no difficulty in reducing the minimum rate when they held their weekly meeting today. The bank's reserve is now in the neighborhood of $60,000,000 pounds.

The lower rate had been largely discounted on the stock exchange and the markets there were practically unaffected, with the exception of consols which advanced 3-15 of a point.

THE DETROITS

TO PLAY GAME WITH CHICAGO CUBS

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—A game between the Cubs and the Detroit Americans at Monroe, La., is practically assured for some day next week. Manager Chance of the Cubs wired Manager Jennings of the Detroit last night in answer to the latter's request for a game, saying he would send a team of his regulars to Monroe any day next week except Saturday or Sunday for a guarantee of $1000 or the privilege of 50 per cent. of the gate receipts.

THREAT TO STRIKE

UNLESS WHITE MEN GET PREFERENCE OVER NEGROES

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Unless an affirmative answer to the demand that white firemen be preferred over negroes is given by tonight, the firemen employed by the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific railroad (Queen and Crescent route) will strike. This commission was reached last night as a result of balloting on a strike vote was announced.

LUNCH CART FIRED

Lunch Wagon Was Destroyed by Fire Early This Morning

An alarm from box 13 at 2.35 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to the east of Paige and Bridge streets. The fire was in Burn's night lunch cart and the cart was practically destroyed. The fire started while the man in charge had gone for his horses to take the cart home. Officer Peter McManmonen was the insurance man. The cart was carried by Peter's church.

Daniel F. O'Keefe who was in the wagon when it was destroyed by fire, was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint charging him with drunkenness.

O'Keefe whose face was pretty well scorched, pleaded guilty. Deputy Downey asked for a continuance of the case until an investigation as to the cause of the fire is made.

O'Keefe who, it is said, was in an intoxicated condition was found crawling out of the lunch cart when the fire was in progress. The cause of the blaze is not known and an investigation will be made.

The case was continued till tomorrow, and the defendant is held in the sum of $200.

GRAND WARDEN

Hubbard Chosen Head of N. E. Order of Protection

BOSTON, March 9.—The 24th annual session of the grand lodge, N. E. P., in this city yesterday was perhaps the largest ever held, there being more than 500 representatives and 300 stewards present. Alternates and visitors augmented the gathering to Appeals and grievances—John MacDonald, Mrs. Teresa B. McKenzie, Mrs. Mae E. Oxtun.

Credentials—William H. T. Read, John P. Connolly and Charles W. Pollner.

The new officers are Curtis A. L.

There was a contest for nearly every office except that of grand warden, Curtis A. L. Hubbard of Somerville being elected unanimously to that position. Eben S. Hincley was re-elected grand secretary for the 24th year, and G. S. Newhall was elected grand treasurer for the fifth year.

A resolution to make past grand wardens members ex-officio of the grand executive committee was defeated by a vote of 10 to 10. The members of the grand finance committee were:

Wardens—Somerville, G. W. George and W. Wendland; Brockton, W. S. Eben S. Hincley; of Dedham, G. S. Gifford; S. Newhall of Lynn, G. T. Mrs. Marguerite G. Brunet of Roxbury, G. C. Mary M. Doyle of Cambridge, G. S. Henry Edwards of Roxbury, G. S. Mrs. J. C. Emerson of North Adams, Frank P. Cushing of Brockton and George E. Perkins of Brockton, grand trustee.

At 8.30 p. m. Mr. A. Rice S. W., assisted by a staff, installed the new officers.

These representatives were elected:

An amendment to the laws in relation to a form of resolutions from theaternity lodge of Attleboro was defeated.

An effort to abolish the annual banquet and substitute a cash consideration was overwhelmingly defeated.

It has been a prosperous year for the prior, with a net increase in membership of 274.

BOSTON, March 2.—This rushing away with something to Nashua, or Providence to get married at a cost of twenty-five cents, because that 'something' is well dressed, does not constitute a marriage at all, but is practically living in the House of Shi," declared the Rev. Fr. John A. Daly, pastor of St. Mark's church, Dorchester avenue, Ashmont, last night in his sermon at the special Lenten service, which was attended by 800 parishioners.

MAN FROM TEXAS

Will Have Little Difficulty in Finding a Wife

Mayor's Private Secretary Will Help Him Out—Local Girls and Others From Out of Town are After Him—Mayor's Office Be- sieged by Callers

If Bert Roberts of San Antonio, Texas, really wants a Lowell girl for a wife he will have to do business with Warren P. Riordan, Mayor Meehan's private secretary for the mayor has vested his hands of the whole business.

Mr. Roberts addressed a communication to Mayor Meehan a few days ago asking the mayor to "pick out" a wife for him. The only excuse Mr. Roberts gave was that he had tired of doing his own plumbing.

The letter from Mr. Roberts found its way into the local papers and was religiously copied by the Boston papers with the result that Mayor Meehan's mail today and yesterday was so voluminous as to warrant the assistance of three or four private secretaries.

The letters, however, were the least of the mayor's troubles. Women telephoned to him and called upon him in person and the calls, both by telephone and in person, became so numerous that the mayor decided to get rid of the whole business. He allowed that the matter was becoming too serious.

He talked the matter over with his private secretary and the latter volunteered to relieve the chief executive of all responsibility in the matter. "The man showed good judgment in seeking a Lowell girl for a wife," said Mr. Riordan, "and I'm going to help him out."

The mayor allowed that it was very kind of the private secretary to take the matter off his hands and he handed letters, telephone calls, etc., over to Mr. Riordan.

Letters have been received from girls in various cities throughout the country, and one of the women who called at the mayor's office said she had worked in the mills for a number of years and had tired of it. She brought along her photograph and told the mayor that he might forward it to Mr. Roberts. She was shown Mr. Rob-

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

State Officials Will Favor School for This City

Dr. Charles S. Prosser of the state board of education and Special Investigator Allen of the state board have been in Lowell for the past two days investigating industrial and manufacturing conditions in this city with a view to establishing an industrial school in Lowell, an institution at which a boy upon leaving school may learn a trade. The scope of the new school idea is far beyond the scope of the manual training school and those familiar with its purposes are heartily in favor of its establishment in this city. The school, if established, will be supported half by the state and half by the city.

In company with Secretary Prosser of the board of trade Messrs. Prosser and Allen visited several mills and workshops yesterday investigating the conditions under which boys are employed. Today they continued their investigations incidentally collecting a large amount of information relative to the ages at which children leave school to go to work, the trades they take up, the hours they work, and the

FEELEY ARRESTED

PITTSFIELD, March 9.—Abstracting funds from a national banking association was the charge upon which Arthur Edward Feeley, until recently draft clerk at the Third National bank of Pittsfield, was arrested today upon a warrant issued at the request of Nain this city. Feeley entered a plea of not guilty and was held in $2500 bail for a continued hearing on the forenoon of Wednesday, March 23. Bail was furnished by Arthur Cooley.

Announcement that shortage in the funds of the bank had been discovered was made yesterday by officials of the bank, who also said that Feeley had made a confession and had promised to make restitution. Last night the bank was given by relatives and friends of Feeley a sum sufficient to cover the amount of shortage. The exact amount of discrepancy has not yet been determined but it is thought not to be greatly in excess of $2000. In the complaint against the defaulter, Bank Examiner Smith places the amount at $2000.

Feeley, who is 26 years old, entered the employ of the bank six years ago, after having pursued a two year course of study at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

Feeley's salary was small and in order to increase his income he kept the books of Edward Larkin, a local tailor. In February Feeley was married to Miss Georgie Nellie Womble and, according to the officials of the bank, he took French leave for a few days to go on his wedding trip. When he returned he was discharged.

A little later, it is alleged, Mr. Larkin had to balance his account, when it was discovered that there was a shortage of $300 in Mr. Larkin's deposits. The matter was brought to the attention of the police but before any formal complaint against Feeley had been made friends of the man made restitution.

In response to requests of the bank officials, Feeley appeared at the institution yesterday when, it is alleged, he confessed to having stolen the money and manipulated the accounts for his own benefit. He offered to help the officials unravel the tangle and his offer was accepted. Bank Examiner Smith also appeared upon the scene to supervise the examination.

Feeley, in a newspaper interview, is quoted today as saying:

"I know too much about bookkeeping. I worked at various times on all the books and had access to the cash. It was dead easy to juggle the figures on the profit and loss and other accounts on the general ledger and to keep $300 whenever I needed it. I lived beyond my means, I have never gained or operated in the market, and have never drunk liquor. I had a good time going to theatres, driving, and in this and other ways I liked to spend the coin."

Feeley was bonded for $1,000 by a New York surety company.

ONE MAN KILLED

Express Collided With Local Train

NEWCASTLE, N. B., March 9.—One passenger was killed and several others were injured when the Maritime express, from Halifax for Montreal, crashed into the rear end of a local train at Derby Junction, four miles south of here today. The passenger killed was Angus McDougall, who was riding on the local train. All of those injured were also passengers on the local.

The accident is said to have been due to some employee of the railroad having left open a switch between the main line of the road and the local town branch. The local train, bound from Newcastle for Blackville, was standing on the branch line when the Maritime express took the open switch and crashed into the local.

No one on the express train was badly hurt although some of the passengers were given a severe jolting and a bad fright.

The loss to the road's rolling stock is estimated at $25,000.

Councilman John J. Rogers is very much interested in providing a way for the Wigginsville people to reach Shedd park without being obliged to take the way of Lawrence and Boylston streets. Mr. Rogers proposes a way across the railroad and that a new street be built back of the cemetery. The arrangement as suggested by Mr. Rogers, who took the matter up with City Civil Engineer Bowers early in January, would greatly convenience the Wigginsville people.

DRAWING AND ART TEXTILE SCHOOL

Evening Schools Will Close Committee on Education Visited Next Monday Institution Today

The legislative committee on education, Charles Brown of Medford, chairman, came to Lowell this afternoon to visit the Textile school. The committee came from Boston on the one o'clock train and will visit the school today this evening in order to compare the day and evening courses.

The trustees of the school have invited the members of the city council to visit the school before the closing of the evening classes. The invitation of the trustees was announced by Chairman Gallagher of the board of aldermen at a meeting of the board last Tuesday evening, and was passed on to the common council. Members of both boards got together and decided to visit the school tomorrow evening.

The evening drawing and art schools close their sessions for this year on Monday evening next, and graduation exercises will be held at their school building, corner of Broadway and Dunster street, the next evening, Tuesday, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock. The address will be by Prof. Herman H. Bachmann, teacher of design and power weaving at the Lowell Textile school, and the diplomas will be given by His Honor Mayor Meehan.

Speaking of the exercises of graduation in the evening drawing and art schools, Arthur K. Whitcomb, superintendent of schools, said:

"The exercises of graduation at these schools are more informal than those of the day or evening high school and the attendance is not as large. There will be no band nor extensive decorations, but there are no schools in the state where better work is being done and none that better deserves the encouragement of the presence of many friends. Teachers estimate that three-fourths of the work is done out of school, and when one graduates at the end of a three years' course filled up with such persistent and earnest work he is not only master of a profession, but he has taken a course which is worthy of all commendation. A class of drawing instruments is given annually by Mr. S. H. Thompson of the Thompson Hardware company to the young man of the machine class who has done the best work."

The evening drawing school, with the cooperation of the school board and the Lowell Art association, will hold a public exhibition of its work at the Whistler house at the close of the term. A year ago an exhibition of the work done in all the day schools was held, and proved something of a revelation to many who saw it.

The exhibition of the evening drawing school is likely to prove as great a surprise. The really excellent work that is being done by these night pupils is quite unknown to the majority of our citizens, who have only the vaguest notion as to its scope or extent.

The board of health members accompanied by Agent Bates and Inspector Garity of the board, met at the board's headquarters at city hall this forenoon and went out on a short tour of inspection including a visit to a milkman's premises in Moody street and bakeries and candy stores in Market and Jefferson streets.

The Moody street milkman, whose premises were visited by the health officers, was found to be under the surveillance of the health department for some time and the conditions as presented today were anything but pleasing to the board. Bogs and filth of various kinds were found in a horse stable.

The viewers visited a tenement in Worthen street. The place was not in quite as bad condition as when visited by the board a few days ago. Some improvements are being made and it may be that the owner will be given an extension of time to make the necessary repairs.

The bakeries visited were found to be in fairly good condition, but there are some improvements needed and they will be suggested at the next meeting of the board.

Louis Gettas keeps a candy store in Jefferson street. The viewers called to see Louis. They found the place very clean and inviting and they related the candy to which Louis treated them.

Louis was congratulated on the cleanliness of his store and he appreciated the compliments. There is a public station in Jefferson street that the board wanted to visit, but it was closed. The board, however, was of the opinion that if the inside of the station was in keeping with the outside, it would require a general cleaning up.

The board will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The local speakers will be Mayor Meehan, Lawrence Cummings and Humphrey O'Sullivan.

Lowell, Riley of the New York police department came to Lowell today in search of Thomas J. Kelley, who is awaiting trial on an appeal of 15 months on four counts of larceny. It is alleged that Kelley kidnapped several storekeepers in this city.

Lowell, Riley claims that Mr. Kelley was released on $2000 bail for larceny in 1908, aged 23 years, in New York and that he "jumped" his bail.

Inasmuch as the grand jury has not considered Kelley's case it seems that it will be a long time before he will be returned to the metropolis.

RECIPROCITY VOTE YOUNG AMERICAN

Premier Laurier Sustained by the Canadian Parliament Said to Have Been Swindled Out of $52,000

OTTAWA, Ont., March 9.—The strength of the government's position on reciprocity was shown in a vote taken in the house last night on a motion yesterday by R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition, that as American action on the agreement has been delayed the matter be not taken up by the Canadian parliament "until the electors shall have had an opportunity of passing on its merits."

The motion to defer action was supported by 80 members and opposed by 112, the government majority being 42. Only two Liberals broke away and voted with the opposition. They were Messrs. Sifton and Harris, who have been opposed to reciprocity from the first.

The intense interest in the situation was shown by an unusually large number of members present to vote early in the evening.

In the debate preceding the vote Finance Minister Fielding, replying to R. L. Borden, said:

"We have made a pact of honor in the name of the people of Canada with the United States to pass upon this agreement as soon as we reasonably can."

The motion of Mr. Borden was regarded as the first formal step by the opposition to delay ratification of the agreement by parliament until congress shall have finally pronounced upon it.

In support of his motion Mr. Borden said that nothing would be lost by delay. The democrats, who were coming into power at Washington were pledged to lower the American tariff and it was most inopportune for Canada to confirm the agreement at present.

The president of the United States is loyally keeping his compact with Canada," replied Minister Fielding, "and he has even gone to the extreme of calling an extra session of congress to keep faith with the government of Canada. For parliament to accept the motion made by Mr. Borden would mean that we should have violated our own honor. Shame on the suggestion!"

"Canada has been trapped before," said George O. Foster, a leading member of the opposition. "into endorsing propositions which the American senate has afterwards rejected and should not be caught again."

The debate on the resolution to ratify the agreement was resumed after the evening vote by Lloyd Harris, Liberal, who spoke against reciprocity.

LADIES' SOCIETY

SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT AT FIRST TRINITARIAN

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the First Trinitarian Congregational church held its regular monthly meeting in the vestry last evening with a supper and entertainment. The entertainment consisted of piano selections by Miss Gertrude Merrill; sketch, "Why We Never Marry," given by the following: Misses Lena A. Cloyd, Charlotte E. Sherman, Helen M. Wood, Lilian E. Noyce, Emily B. Wrigley, Eleanor M. Clifford, Elsie M. Craig, and Messrs. E. P. Farnham, Albert A. Ludwig, Arvid E. Christanson, Edward E. Stanley, Irving M. Snyder, Raymond Coffin and Walter Kitchen; a reading by Miss Grace Howe was most entertaining and piano selections by Miss Merrill followed. "A Living Musical Sheet," presented by Mrs. Frank I. Hadley, Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mrs. H. F. Shirley, Mrs. John Thorne and Mrs. C. V. Hazeltine, was also well received. Games were played and there was a general good time during the evening.

PARIS, March 9.—Three men claiming to be Italian noblemen were arrested here today charged with having swindled Lelven Hart, a young American out of $52,000. The prisoners gave the names of Borelli, Carminelli and Borden and are alleged to be partisans wanted by the police of Italy.

According to the story told by Hart, he met the strangers at his hotel in the Place de L'Hotel and was introduced by them at various gambling clubs. During the visit to these places he says that the men by the use of marked cards and other devices robbed him of his entire fortune.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Considering Appeals for Pardon of Morse and Walsh

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Taft will leave for the south today. He will take with him for final consideration the appeals for pardon which have been made by John R. Walsh and Charles W. Morse. The president will study the cases in the quiet of his short vacation, and before he returns to Washington both men probably will know whether they are to be free or to stay in federal penitentiaries.

Attorney General Wickersham, after several weeks of investigation of both cases, will turn over all the papers to the president today with his recommendation.

Walsh, now in the Leavenworth, Kansas, prison, will be eligible for release on parole under the new law next September. He then will have served one-third of his five-year sentence. His attorneys say that if the aged banker is not released before that time he may never live to enjoy his liberty.

Morse, in the Atlanta prison, has served a little more than one year of a 15-year sentence and could not be paroled until 1915. Influence has been brought to bear, at least to obtain a commutation of his sentence to five years, which would permit his discharge after two years and eight months more of imprisonment, making allowances for good behavior.

Ex-Senator Hale of Maine has taken an active interest in Morse's behalf, and he presented to President Taft Mrs. Morse's petition for the release of her husband.

The contention in his case is that the sentence of 15 years was excessive. Although the first court found him guilty and sentenced him on three counts, the higher courts cleared him of two charges, but the sentence for all three was allowed to stand.

Attorney General Wickersham's recommendations are confidential to the president, but it is understood the attitude of the department of justice is in favor of granting clemency.

COLONEL BRYAN

Spoke at a Legislative Hearing

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—William Jennings Bryan made an unexpected appearance yesterday at a legislative hearing where he spoke in favor of the bill under consideration, fostered by the democrats, calling for a constitutional amendment giving registered voters the right to vote for all candidates for public office and abolishing the property qualification of the voting law. The Nebraskan, after listening to the arguments, took the floor and went on record as in favor of such legislation, citing the state government of Oregon as an ideal example of government by the people.

In an address before the members of the Brown civic school, Mr. Bryan discussed governmental topics and sought to show wherein a democracy is the best kind of government.

"We have a disease in the body politic, the disease of misrepresentation," he said. "The people demand the initiative to relieve this abuse. We need the initiative, the referendum and the recall to make our representatives act justly and to overrule the lobbyists."

"Those who do not want the initiative, referendum and recall, either believe the masses have not the capacity for self government or are representatives of the special interests to which these measures are antagonistic."

Col. Bryan met Gov. Aram J. Potter at the state house and later was the dinner guest of the Rev. Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth, rector of Trinity Union Methodist Episcopal church.

His lecture, "The Prince of Peace," was delivered in Infantry hall last evening.

GOVERNOR DIX

Did Not Order Whitman to Withdraw

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—Gov. Dix denied the report that he has ordered District Attorney Whitman of New York to withdraw from the investigation of the affairs of the Carnegie Trust Co. or that the district attorney had been superseded by Attorney-General Carmody.

According to the governor, no such letter was written and Attorney-General Carmody said today that so far as he is concerned, no instructions have come to him from the governor.

"I have received no communication from Gov. Dix," said the attorney-general, "and know nothing about such a letter that the governor is reported to have written District Attorney Whitman."

Governor Dix said that it was his understanding that Mr. Whitman was coming to Albany to confer with Attorney-General Carmody relative to the investigation.

TRIED TO ESCAPE

Revolver Stopped the Flight of Fred Bartell

RUTLAND, Vt., March 9.—At the point of a revolver in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Pascale Ricci, Fred Bartell, 46 years old, was arrested at Castleton yesterday on a warrant from Watertown, N. Y., charging him with bigamy.

Bartell, who is a stone mason, and who has formerly worked at this trade in the vicinity of Rutland, has been sought some time by the Watertown authorities. He has been employed on the farm of Allen Thornton, near Castleton.

When arrested yesterday he was washing himself in the kitchen of the farmhouse and as soon as he learned the mission of the deputy sheriff he asked permission to go to the barn to see his employer. The request was granted and a few seconds later, when Ricci glanced from the window, he saw his man making efforts to lower the world's record for the half-mile.

Ricci gave chase and fired two bullets over Bartell's head when the latter did not obey his command to stop. The fugitive, who weighs more than 200 pounds, halted upon hearing the report of the revolver, but when his captor approached he drew a heavy bottle from his pocket and threatened to christen him with it.

Upon a closer scrutiny of the gun, Bartell meekly permitted his hands to be handcuffed and himself to be lodged in the Rutland county jail.

Bartell spent Tuesday night at the Elmore with his wife, who had come to Rutland in search of him. Yesterday he returned to Castleton, where Dep. Ricci nabbed him. It is claimed the Bartell has served time in Dannemora prison in New York state. It is also claimed that he has several wives distributed about the country.

It is expected that officers from Watertown will arrive in Rutland today to take him back. According to police officials Bartell maintains his innocence and has expressed a willingness to meet his accusers.

FINE CONCERT

GIVEN AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There was a concert given and old time songs were sung last evening at the First Baptist church by the young members of that church under the direction of John C. McKelvey, and certainly it reflected great credit on Mr. McKelvey's ability as a director. The mixed chorus included nearly one hundred people. The songs were all very pleasant, and the solo work was certainly very fine, particularly that of Miss Katherine Gordon, and the rendering of "Annie Laurie" by Miss Etta Thompson was exceptionally fine. Miss Etta P. Truworthy gave an excellent reading which showed her great talent in that line. Mr. McKelvey also sang in his usual pleasing voice the beautiful old ballad "Massa's in De Cold Ground." The program was as follows:

"Old Folks at Home," Chorus.

TALKED ON CHARTER

W. H. Wilson Addresses St. John's Men's Club

The men of St. John's Episcopal church held an interesting meeting last evening at which the advantages of the proposed new city charter were explained by William H. Wilson. The other speakers were Rev. James Bancroft, pastor of St. John's, who presided, and Rev. Allan C. Ferrin of the High Street Congregational church.

Mr. Wilson was the first speaker and in opening he stated that since Governor has started the change in the form of city government about 100 cities had followed, and in every case government by commissions has been a success.

Separate Licensing Power

Under the proposed charter, Mr. Wilson said, five men will do all of the city business now done by the mayor and city council, and in addition, the police department affairs will come under the new government, leaving the police board with the licensing power only. The separation of police and licensing power under the new commission was emphasized.

As to the political feature, Mr. Wilson said: "I am a democrat. I have always felt that capital in the hands of a few is a menace. Unsatisfactory conditions existing at large today, I attribute to the tariff. The republican party has given splendid government, and our people have been the happiest on the face of the globe under republican control. But what has that got to do with city government?"

"Today we have a peculiar situation at city hall—the unusual spectacle of a republican common council, a democratic board of aldermen and a democratic mayor in power."

It is strange, said Mr. Wilson, "that we go to state and national elections in large numbers to vote, but when it comes to local elections we stay away and let incompetents crowd their way into city hall. Did you ever stop to think that the city of Lowell expends $1,600,000 a year? With a good body of government and a low tax rate, just think of the possibilities of Lowell as a city! We want Lowell to grow, and in order that it may grow, we want to create conditions that will be an incentive to men of business, to big industries, to come to Lowell.

The system is all wrong, the mayor ought to be the executive head of the city, but as it is, he is nearly powerless. Suppose the mayor has a recommendation to make to the police force, that is where his power ends. He has no jurisdiction over the men he names on the commission, while they remain in office.

Under the new charter there would be better discipline and more efficiency because the man in charge would be directly responsible to the people for the businesslike administration of the police department.

"Suppose there was an incompetent in the fire department, who would correct the trouble? Not the mayor, for the simple reason that he lacks the power. I believe the chief, acting with the board of engineers, would have to act, but the point is to center responsibility to the end that there may be no delay, no confusion in the transaction of the city's business."

"We come to the street department and what do we find? Out on the streets we find men put to work by members of the common council, the board of aldermen and the mayor himself. Oftentimes these men are put to work for political purposes. Debts of a political nature must be paid."

"As to the authority of the mayor over departments, let me say that when the city council parcels out the money to the different departments, the control of that money by the mayor and city council practically ceases. The mayor has no power to interfere, the city council cannot act unless it recalls the money voted, or elects new men, and you have never heard of this being done. The man who suffers most because of all this is the man who owns a little home."

I was talking with the mayor the other day, and he asked me if I was a candidate for mayor. I answered "What of it if I am?" But let me assure you, I am not, and have never entertained the thought of being a candidate.

Why Mayor is Opposed

I am interested in this new charter simply because I would like to see the money raised by taxation expended to the best advantage, so that Lowell may grow in every direction. I believe that under the new charter, Lowell will not owe a cent in 20 years."

"I know a man at city hall who every year has to give up his work for a time to look after his job. This year he will be handicapped more than is usually the case because of the unsatisfactory political conditions existing. Such a condition would not be possible under the new charter."

"The politicians are out against this charter. That is a good argument in its favor. The mayor is opposed to it because he thinks I might be a candidate."

Rev. Mr. Ferrin

Rev. Allan C. Ferrin was next introduced and he spoke briefly on the new charter stating that it will mean increased business efficiency, and what is more important from his point of view—a higher moral life for the city.

"I believe democracy and Christianity synonymous," said Mr. Ferrin, "because democracy is a plea for the right of men. If you stop to think of it, Christ gave His life for the rights of men. I am not a democrat in the political sense, but I believe in the broad interpretation, with the motto, 'progress of all, through all, under the leadership of the wisest and best,' constantly before us. I believe this points to the ideal condition in our government as a city and as a nation. Standing by the local governmental condition certainly cannot make for progress. I am positive that under present conditions a man in the city government does not always follow his best judgment. His hands are tied. We propose to untie his hands by creating new conditions which will clarify the atmosphere and make it possible for him to give to the city the best that is in him. I have faith in the Christian men of America, and I am confident that all cities will advance in their municipal and moral life as time passes."

Rev. James Bancroft thanked the speakers and urged all to vote on the question of a new charter in the event of its reference to the people next fall. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

MANY PETITIONS

Considered by Street Committee

The first meeting of the street committee for 1911, Aldermen Barrett and Connors, and Councilmen Bowers, Davis, Elliott, Genest and Brady, was held last night and many petitions for street improvements were considered.

A number of the petitions were from the city governments of 1909 and 1910 and in most cases hearings on the petitions were ordered.

The proposed work of cutting down the grade of Knapp avenue was explained by Mr. Cassidy, representing E. W. Dowditch, of Boston. City Engineer Bowers thought it would cost about $2500 to cut it down and about $5000 to finish it.

Mr. Cassidy favored a 20-foot path to allow the residents of Wiggwilt to reach the park, rather than a regular street for vehicles. It was voted to have a view of the avenue followed by a hearing.

The petition of Charles E. Johnson and others that Rogers street from Nesmith street to Boylston street be widened was read. The idea is to take 10 feet from the Shedd park side of the street, most of which would be given to the city. The committee voted a view and hearing.

The petition of Thomas F. Boyle and others that West Fifth avenue be graded was read. View and hearing ordered.

Petition for sidewalk of edgestones and clenders on westerly side of Dartmouth street; view and hearing ordered.

Petition that Summer street be paved; view voted.

Petition for a sidewalk on western side of Hildreth street; view and hearing ordered.

A petition to pave Middlesex street with granite blocks from the junction of Pawtucket street to the city line was read and a view voted.

A petition that a portion of Mansur street be macadamized from Wentworth avenue to Butman road was read and a view voted.

A petition of George T. Fowler and others to pave Middlesex street with granite blocks from the junction with Middlesex street to the city line, was read and a view voted.

HONORED BY MEN OF HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

CAMBRIDGE, March 9.—The highest honor conferred by the men of the Harvard law school upon any of their number, that of president of the Harvard Law Review board was last night bestowed upon Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., son of the former governor of New York, now Judge C. Hughes graduated from Brown university two years ago, after which he entered the Harvard law school.

As long as the tiny cells which make up your body are healthy, you are healthy.

These cells are constantly breaking down—a single bending of your arm destroys thousands of them. But cells will quickly rebuild themselves if they obtain the proper materials from your diet.

When some of these materials are lacking, you say that you "catch cold" or "suffer" from sore throat, grippe and influenza.

ALLEOTONE is absolutely harmless to both adults and children. As a preventive, it can do nothing but good, and on occasions when you fear that you are "about to take cold" a spoonful or two will dispel the danger. You should always have ALLEOTONE on hand to cope with colds, feverishness and sore throat.

The chemical elements which make up the cells of your body are the component parts of ALLEOTONE—a concentrated liquid cell food. Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Grippe, and all sickness caused by deficient cell material begin to yield to ALLEOTONE just as quickly as the cell food.

General Wood Receives Word
That His Orders Are Being
Carried Out—The Staff Officers
Are Enjoying a Respite Today
—Capt. Hagood to Join Staff
of Major Carter

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Still under guise of peaceful field maneuvers, the advance of the army toward the southern frontier is proceeding in perfect order. Innumerable telegrams are being received by General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, reporting that his sudden and comprehensive orders, flashed from the capital only three days ago, are being carried out with rapidity and precision. The staff officers, having set the machinery in motion, are enjoying a respite today. The telegraphic advices indicate that all of the men ordered out are now moving rapidly southward with ample commissary and ammunition supplies.

Captain Johnson Hagood of the coast artillery and a member of the general staff, has been ordered to San Antonio to join the staff of Major General Carter, commander of the army division which is being concentrated at that point. Captain Hagood's departure will be delayed a few days in order that he may clear up several odds and ends of military matters—the aftermath of legislation by the last session of congress. It is the legislative expert of the general staff. The navy also is carrying out its part of the operations without any semblance of a hitch. The vessels of the fifth division of the Atlantic fleet have been supplied with full complements and are prepared to sail for Guantanamo at the drop of the hat by the secretary of the navy.

The real purpose of the unprecedented movement of soldiers, sailors and marines is still enshrouded in a cloud of mystery. Official Washington persists in the previous announcement that the movement is a technical military experiment to try the efficiency of the fight resources of the nation and that it has no relation to the Mexican situation.

BATTLE FOUGHT LOWELL PRIEST

Both Sides Lost at Casas Grande
Assigned to Parish in Canada

EL PASO, Texas, March 8.—The battle fought at Casas Grande on Monday, in which the forces under Madero were routed by the federal troops under Col. Cuellar, lasted the entire day with heavy casualties on both sides, according to an American mining man who claims to have seen the engagement. The force engaged on each side is said to have been six hundred men. Madero's men are said to have succeeded in reaching the outskirts of the town, where they opened a heavy fire on the garrison. While a portion of his force held the insurgents in check, Cuellar led the remainder of his force in a flank movement that placed the insurgents under a cross fire.

Madero received a small reinforcement during the engagement and was able to hold his position until darkness fell, when he succeeded in withdrawing his men under a heavy fire from machine guns.

Madero is said to have lost three machine guns, a large quantity of ammunition and many horses.

TOMMY SULLIVAN

Had Better of Bout With Thomas

AUGUSTA, Me., March 9.—Joe Thomas and Tommy Sullivan, before 900 sports in city hall last night, boxed two six-round bouts of scientific sparring. Little damage being done. Honors in the first six rounds were slightly in Sullivan's favor. He forced the milling much of the time, Thomas retaliating only when he could see a favorable opening.

The first round of the second bout opened slow, with Sullivan leading. Thomas, in the next few rounds, took a number of hard face blows and barely escaped several vicious swings of Sullivan's right. Thomas had some advantage in the fifth, but Sullivan appeared to have a shade the better of the contest and was fast making headway when the bout sounded.

In the preliminaries Allie Sanborn of Newbury knocked out Young Trepanier of this city in two rounds and Young Dennis of Winslow put Jim Boldue of this city away in the fourth.

MANAGER McGRAW

PICKS OUT THE BEST BETTING PROPOSITION

MARLIN, Texas, March 9.—"The only good bet on the cards," said Manager McGraw of the Giants yesterday as he looked over the prices laid against the clubs by both big leagues by a Louisville future book concern, "is the 6 to 5 offered against Conita Mack's Athletics in the American league. Most of the other prices are false odds. They have the Giants quoted at 5 to 5 favorites in the National league, while we ought to be about 1 to 1, with the Cubs at the top of the list."

"Six to five, though, is not too short a price against the Athletics. 'Class has what looks like a rattling good ball club in the New York Americans but Detroit is the logical betting choice for second place."

Trading in the Last Hour Was Dull—An Increased Weakness in Missouri Pacific Stocks

NEW YORK, March 9.—The stock market opened strong and moderate, active today. The Gould issues were especially strong. Wabash pf advancing 1 1/2, the common 1/2 and Missouri Pacific 1/2. U. S. Steel and Reading gained 1/2 each and U. S. P. Opening prices were the best of the hour and the market receded slightly on distribution of selling orders. Atchafalpa sagged to half below yesterday's close and St. Paul, New York Central, Missouri Pacific and Southern Pacific a smaller fraction. The tone was better at 11 o'clock.

Trading was without a guiding motive in the stock market this morning and after a slight advance prices drifted back to about yesterday's last quotations. The Mexican situation was not a factor, assurances from various quarters serving to check any apprehension and Mexican stocks showed no further weakness. Reduction of the Bank of England's rate had been discounted in the London market and had no effect in New York. The bond market was firm, with considerable activity and strength in Wabash four.

There was a slight improvement in prices during the noon hour, during which U. P. extended its rise to a point. The advance was halted, however, when Mo. Pac. was sold down from 56 to below 55.

Complete stagnation prevailed during the afternoon session, the heaviness of Missouri Pacific having restrictive influence on the general demand. The market closed active and steady. Trading in the last hour was even duller than at any other period of the session. Prices showed a trifle with increased weakness in Mo. Pac, which fell to the lowest price of the day.

PRESIDENT MELLEN'S FORESIGHT

President Mellen of the New Haven railroad, by acquiring control of a number of connecting lines to the north, is laying the foundation for more extensive trade between Canada and the New England states, particularly the port of Boston. This, no doubt, is done with a view to handling the increased volume of business that will be developed under reciprocity with Canada. There will be more goods shipped to Canada, and more shipped from Canada to the States than formerly. There will be a great boom in business between the two countries, and the railroads will undoubtedly be benefited, while they will at the same time be helping to promote prosperity on both sides of the Canadian border. Moreover these new links in the system will connect Boston with the great lakes and the trunk lines to the west, something that will vastly benefit the commercial interests of New England, more especially of Boston.

THE UNIONIST CLAPTRAP

The Unionists of England are severely criticising Ambassador Bryce for the part he took in arranging a conference between the United States and Canadian authorities for the purpose of bringing about the reciprocity measure. In point of fact Mr. Bryce only exercised the usual diplomatic courtesy of his office in arranging for the conference as desired by both governments. The Unionists are using the annexation talk for political purposes in England. They are endeavoring to make it appear that reciprocity will mean annexation later on, something which is utterly absurd.

There was a good deal of foolish talk about annexation by a number of American politicians who should have shown better judgment; but the Liberal leaders of England have truthfully pointed out that the responsible officials of both governments simply laugh at the idea of annexation. It is to be hoped that none of this political claptrap will be allowed to jeopardize the reciprocity agreement pending between the United States and Canada.

THE YEGG AND HIS EVOLUTION

In the execution of the two Lynn bandits there was a striking lesson for young men who may be disposed to embark upon a career of law-breaking. One of the bandits was a youth of 18 years of age who had been brought up by his parents to respect authority and obey all just laws, human and divine. From statements made by this young man it appears that his mother exercised the greatest care over his early training, and on his departure for this country, some three years ago, she presented him with a prayer book and cautioned him to be attentive to his religious duties. After coming here he fell in with bad company, one of the worst of his associates being the man who was executed at the same time, known as Wassili Ivankowski. This was a thoroughly bad man, although he was only 22 years old. He was an atheist, an anarchist, a revolutionist, a desperado, and apparently everything else that is bad. He continued to blaspheme everything sacred and everybody with whom he came in contact except his associate in the Lynn crime, young Ipsen. He died with an oath on his lips. One thing to be remarked about him was that he was an inveterate cigarette smoker. He smoked cigarettes when he could secure them, with an avidity that was really shocking. The cigarette habit must have affected his mental faculties, and may have been responsible for much of the desperation shown both before and during his imprisonment.

But as for Ipsen he was thoroughly repentant. He lamented the misfortune that had befallen him, and the affliction it would bring to his mother and family to hear of his sad fate, only a few years after he had left his home to seek his fortune. He wrote a most affecting letter to his mother, and one that contained a great deal that should be heeded by young men who under one impulse or another might be led to start upon a criminal career through the influence of bad company.

There is no doubt whatever that many young men are led astray by their associates. Ivankowski was a Russian nihilist, and being from the same country as Ipsen he had little difficulty in controlling this simple youth from the farm in Poland. Lack of work, and as Ipsen stated, very often the pangs of hunger, were among the things that led him to join Ivankowski's gang which committed the double murder and robbery in Lynn. The fate of Ipsen is a lesson to all young men who are liable to be led astray by evil associations.

The two men were given a shorter time after their sentence than any other murderers we know of in this state. There was no sympathy for them from any quarter. There never is for the so-called "yegg" because the man who adopts a criminal career and equips himself to kill those who may attempt to thwart him in his robberies deserves only the severest penalty of the law. It is to be hoped that the execution of these men and the summary methods adopted in dealing with some others will result in stamping out this species of outlaw.

But, on the other hand we have a word to say in behalf of such well disposed young men, as Ipsen undoubtedly was, although found in the company of a gang of murderers in the city of Lynn. In his farewell letter to his mother, Ipsen said it was untrue that gold could be picked up on the streets in this country, and that young men could live much happier in the old home even though they were not so well dressed as here. That showed that Ipsen in common with others are deluded by the prospects held out to induce them to emigrate. Emigration agents, and it may be padrones in the employ of some textile factory in Massachusetts, have been responsible for bringing thousands of people from Europe with but slight prospect of finding employment when they come here. It is a fact that some of the men so deluded become highwaymen, because driven to desperation by want and lack of employment. It seems that our government is responsible, at least indirectly, for allowing the people of foreign countries to be imposed upon in this manner. This government should disseminate literature abroad sufficient to counteract any false stories circulated by emigration agencies.

SEEN AND HEARD

Spring begins Tuesday, March 21. Cheer up!

Six members of the present board of aldermen are totalitarians; three of the six do not use tobacco. The chairman of the board is president of the Mathew-Temperance Institute.

People always impose on the good-natured man, but that doesn't mean that the man who always has a grouch doesn't sometimes get imposed on.

When you think you are having hard luck, does it make you feel any better to think that probably somebody is having harder luck than you are?

Cheer up! In a few months or weeks now your life insurance premium will be due.

Everybody has a kindly feeling for the man who has a trusting disposition, particularly if he is a grocer.

When a man is called upon for an after-dinner speech, and gets up and begins by saying, "I—er—didn't expect—er—to be called on—tonight, and I—er—have nothing to—say," why doesn't everybody around the table join in singing out in chorus: "All right! Sit down!"

"It is hard," says Colonel Henry Watters, "to lose the savings of a lifetime." But Colonel Henry has been buying preferred stock in western gold mines, too?

Have you noticed that the dates on your calendar sheet for March are the same as for February? Both months came in on Wednesday and your February sheet is all right for March until you go beyond the 28th day.

It happened in a town in the United States which, for the sake of argument, may be called Bingville. A registered letter, with a large sum of money in it, arrived there for Caruso. He went to the postoffice to get it, and presented his passport.

"Insufficient proof," said the clerk. Caruso insisted. He told his name, showed all kind of papers, and got very angry; but the clerk was obdurate.

"No good," he said. "But look here, if you really are Caruso, sing and prove it, otherwise you'll have to come back tomorrow."

There was no help for it, and Caruso sang the famous aria from the third act of "La Tosca." It was warmly applauded by the clerks, and the one with the registered letter handed it out to him, saying:

"We knew you all right, Mr. Caruso; but we can't afford $10 to hear you sing, so we thought that we'd have the treat for nothing."

His workroom, "Markland," is at Redding, Conn., where Mr. Clemens died. Before long he will visit corners of the humorist's places of abode—Hartford, London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Florence, etc.—combining work with recreation. In clearing out rubbish from the "Stormfield" attic, after the departure of Mr. Clemens' daughter, Mrs. Ossip Gabrilowitch, Mr. Paine came upon a set of photographic records of Mark Twain's voice, containing his seventieth birthday speeches, which had been missing since the removal from 21 Fifth avenue in New York to Redding and given up as lost. Unhappily, the wax of which the rolls were made had melted or decomposed, and while the change was imperceptible to the eye, nothing intelligible could be got from them when they were inserted in a phonograph. So the familiar voice of the humorist is probably lost to the world forever.

SENATOR BENNETT

Talked on "Progressive Legislation" at First Cong. Church

"Progressive Legislation," was the subject assigned Senator Frank P. Bennett, Jr., who was the speaker at last night's meeting of the Men's Fraternity of the First Congregational Church. He announced, during the course of his talk, that the ways and means committee at the state house, of which he is a member, yesterday recommended that the sum of $3500 be turned over to the governor and his council, to be used in assisting in the proposed observance of April 19 in Lowell.

Speaking on "Progressive Legislation," the speaker said, in part: "I know of no subject that is more unintelligently discussed than the one to which I am tonight assigned. Every man has his own methods in his attempts to make progress in legislation. I would recommend that splendid essay of James Russell Lowell's 'The Genuine Independent,' if one wishes to get a fair insight into this subject. A progressive man many times finds himself an independent, and an independent, is generally a stranger in a strange land, as it were. If you wish to understand progressive legislation, you must go back to the time of its origin, as one would naturally do in looking thoroughly into any subject. Let us go back to the framing of the constitution of the United States. It is an interesting fact that the same constitution of 1776, which was drafted after many hours, many days, yes many months of thought and discussion, is the same constitution which rules us today. It weathered through the war of 1812, passed through the time from then until the Civil war, came through the latter strife and is still with us, an emblem of conservative action and thought."

The speaker took sides against recent utterances of former President Roosevelt, who when talking to the people of one of the western states, assured them that what they needed in making their form of government was to have a constitution that should be easily adapted to amendments. "Our fathers gave us a finished product in

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

D. C. V.: Remember this: "A beautiful face never lacks interest." It is to your credit that you wish to remain young looking as long as possible. All rough, cracked, enlarged pores, rough skin and premature wrinkles have begun to show in your once beautiful face. You can easily get rid of them and retain your charming complexion by using this greasiness cream jelly. Get an ounce of alcohol from any drug store; put it in a half pint cold water, stir and let stand a few hours. Apply this cream jelly and you will find it will remove all dirt and excess oil from the pores, making the skin smaller and leaving your skin soft, smooth and fresh looking. I find this excellent for preventing and removing blackheads, skin pimples, freckles and chapping. When used as a massage cream it is just grand for filling out hollow cheeks and removing wrinkles.

No one can afford to neglect his or her eyes, although most people do. If you want bright, clear, beautiful eyes that will be much admired, you can have them with very little care. Get an ounce of crystals at any drug store and dissolve it in a pint of water. Put two or three drops of this tonic in each eye daily and you will be surprised to find it will strengthen your weak, tired eyes and make them strong, healthy and sparkling. Many oculists who use this simple tonic get excellent results in treating eye troubles generally. It is very soothing and has enabled many to dispense with wearing glasses.

Eliza: Nature did not intend woman should have hairy growths on the face, and even though yours is coarse and dark, as you say, it can be easily and quickly removed without resorting to the pain and expense of the electric needle. I would suggest buying an ounce of delatone and mixing a little with water to form a stiff paste. Spread thickly on hairy surface and let remain two or three minutes, then rub off and wash the skin and the hairs are gone. Druggists charge a dollar an ounce for delatone, but it is well worth it as the first application usually suffices.

Anita: To restore the youthful tint and true blonde shade of your hair, you should wash it with marlax tea, made by steeping an ounce of marlax in a pint of water. Before using, cleanse the hair with canthrox and dry well, then wash in the marlax tea, after which rinse in clear water and dry. Do this and your hair will be glossy and fluffy and take on that rich blonde tint so pleasing to the eye.

Gertrude J.: The dandruff, itching scalp and brittle, falling hair with split ends of which you complain come from a diseased scalp, due to the presence of germs. The surest way to get rid of these troubles quickly and remove the germs, will be to shampoo twice a month with canthrox and rub into your scalp twice a week a quinine hair tonic made by dissolving one ounce of quinine in half a pint of alcohol, then adding half a pint of cold water.

The 4th quarterly conference of St. Paul's M. E. church was held last night, the district superintendent, Dr. C. E. Klee presiding. The pastor's report showed the church to be in very good condition. The membership has been enlarged, and the financial report shows a balance on hand.

McLEANS SUED

Hope Diamond Gets Them in Trouble

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, latest holders of the famous Hope diamond, have not escaped the ill fortune supposed to follow the historic stone. They have had the jewel only since January 28, but already suit has been filed against them in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by the Cartier firm, from which the McLeans procured the diamond, for the recovery of the full purchase price, $150,000, and for a pendant valued at $25,000.

This pendant was to have been given in part payment. Friends of the McLeans said last night that there has been no transfer of ownership of the diamond, but that the McLeans have been simply for inspection and had several times tried to induce the Cartiers to take it back. Mrs. McLean is said not to have worn the gem since it came into her possession.

The Cartiers claim that Mr. and Mrs. McLean have failed to pay for the jewel, as they agreed. An initial payment of $10,000 cash, the first default charged. In addition to the first cash payment of $40,000 and the trade of Mrs. McLean's $25,000 pendant, it is alleged that the balance of $114,000 was to be paid in certain instalments. As junior member of the firm, Pierre C. Cartier presents, with the petition in court, an affidavit reciting that he personally conducted the negotiations with Mr. and Mrs. McLean. He says he delivered the jewel in person.

HUSBAND DEAD

His Wife is Fatally Wounded

NEW YORK, March 9.—Three revolver shots were heard in a private dining room in a small uptown hotel early last evening and when employees rushed in they found William Hall, a railroad office clerk, who had come from Chicago yesterday, dead, and his wife, Della, fatally wounded.

A revolver was found beside Hall's body, leading the police to believe that he had shot his wife and committed suicide. A later discovery of a dozen cartridges in the woman's stocking developed mystery in the case, however, and the police are certain only that no third party was concerned.

PEOPLE'S CLUB

INTERESTING LECTURE ON THE PASSION PLAY

Very large indeed was the audience which packed into the People's club last night to hear the illustrated lecture of the Passion play of Oberammergau, given by Arthur E. Peck under the auspices of the Women's branch of the club. The hall was packed to its doors and many were forced to stand in the hallway for lack of seating room.

Mr. Peck spoke with intimate knowledge of his subject, giving a comprehensive and complete description of this most famous play and of the people who present it every ten years, as he had found them himself.

The lecture was handsomely illustrated with colored lantern slides. Indeed there was no detail which was not shown by the slides as well as described verbally by the lecturer.

Mr. Peck told not only about the play, with its cast of over 700 people, the enormous open-air stage and all the details of the presentation, but also of the people. He gave interesting little incidents and anecdotes of many of the principal characters, and told especially of the little children, many of whom take part in the play.

Not the least interesting information was that to the effect that the play, which lasts all day, is given, no matter what the weather conditions may be. Sometimes snow and sleet, or rain, prevail, while at others the temperature is that of midsummer under the hot sun and blue skies. Mr. Peck vividly described one occasion upon which the crucifixion scene was presented during a heavy thunder shower, the thunder and lightning adding in a really terrific manner to the terrible impressiveness of the spectacle.

His description of the wonderful open-air stage depicting the streets of Jerusalem with the blue hills of Oberammergau as a background was also extremely interesting.

Walking Has Almost Become a Lost Art

The majority of people you see on the street have foot trouble.

They wobble along.

There is no more resiliency in their tread than in a punctured auto tire.

In most cases this flat foot walk is due to relaxed foot muscles which permit a break down of the foot arch; a condition brought on by wearing improperly fitting shoes.

Persons of great weight or decreased muscular vigor, and those obliged to stand a great deal, suffer terribly from this trouble.

WOMEN particularly are susceptible to foot trouble. The extreme styles in shoes which they frequently force themselves to wear tend to misplace the bones of the feet and cause permanent injury.

THIS IS NO IDLE ASSERTION, for hundreds of women from all over this state have come to this store for shoes to relieve and cure lame feet—practically crippled by wearing shoes anatomically incorrect.

A WORD TO PARENTS regarding the young growing girls' feet. WATCH how the shoes they wear support the arch of their feet. If you ever notice their treading on the inside of the sole or heel or both, look out for trouble ahead. "A stitch in time saves nine." Prevention is better than cure and cheaper in the end.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED

The flat foot trouble can be permanently cured. Men and women troubled with this complaint have been groping in the dark for some time, trying to find a remedy for this painful foot trouble. It was first one thing, then another; they have tried all kinds of arch supports and paid all kinds of money for them without permanent relief.

THERE IS JUST ONE WAY to cure the falling arch—and that is—by the use of a shoe properly constructed on the lines of the human foot—giving the support JUST where it is needed without contracting any of the cords or ligaments of the foot.

Unfortunately a broken arch will NOT right itself.

Artificial support must be supplied.

Just now the market is flooded with a great variety of arch supports—more or less effective and at the same time deceptive.

These devices are usually very painful to wear and give the feeling of walking on stilts.

Being loose in the shoe, they get out of place, frequently STOP THE CIRCULATION OF BLOOD, sometimes do more harm than good and certainly never effect a permanent cure.

In the O'SULLIVAN Arch Support Shoe the wearer suffers no discomfort.

The support is always at exactly the right spot.

Relief is quickly experienced and a complete cure ultimately effected.

The brace in the O'SULLIVAN Arch Support Shoe is elastic and moves with the foot, but always maintains an insistent support beneath the arch; is not noticeable; makes no change in the appearance of the shoe; is made of tempered steel and works in a space entirely enclosed by leather.

The brace is fastened at one end only, under the breast of the heel and 5-8 inch back under the front of heel.

It embodies all the good points of other arch supports and eliminates the objectionable features found in all arch supports.

The device from which these shoes are constructed is owned and patented by James O'Sullivan of this city

This machine gives the exact height of the arch of the foot; the perfect curvature of the arch from the heel to ball of the foot; gives the exact width of foot at ball and the length of the foot, all at one and the same time, so that when you stand in a pair of these shoes the ball of your foot fits just in the proper spot; neither too far forward nor too far back, and you have the exact width of your foot on the innersole. In that way you avoid the painful callouses on the bottom of the feet caused by treading over the innersole of the shoe in wearing.

The O'SULLIVAN Arch Support Shoe for men and women is priced at $5.00 to $8.00, according to the serious condition of the foot to be fitted. Our mail order books show the names of men and women all over this country. The reorders that are coming prove what this shoe has done for others and will do for you.

Continued

HAS BEEN ORDERED TO SAN ANTONIO

TUCSON, Ariz., March 9.—Brig. General Schuyler, commanding the department of the Colorado who came here Tuesday from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., received orders last night to proceed at once to San Antonio.

700 MARINES

SAILED FROM PHILADELPHIA FOR CUBA TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—More than 700 marines sailed today on the Prairie from the navy yard for Guantanamo, Cuba. The marines were drafted from Washington, Annapolis, Brooklyn, Boston, Newport and New London, and were rushed to this city following the order of mobilization of troops in Texas. Besides general stores, the Prairie is carrying south 375,000 rounds of ball cartridge. The transport Dixie which was ordered here from New York to take marines south arrived at the navy yard today and immediately preparations to load the vessel with stores were begun. The Dixie will sail within a day or two.

GENERAL MILLS

TO ASSUME COMMAND OF THE BRIGADE

ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—General A. L. Mills, commander of the department of the Gulf, accompanied by two of his aides, Lieut. S. C. Allen and Emilie Laurson, left last night for Galveston, where General Mills will assume command of the brigade to be mobilized there. He will be followed tomorrow by Col. Bartlett, chief of staff, and Major Bailey, quartermaster.

SAILING ORDERS

NOT YET RECEIVED BY TORPEDO FLOTILLA

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 9.—The 12 torpedo boats and destroyers composing the torpedo flotilla of the Pacific fleet finished coaling last night. The

FLORIDA TROOPS

ARE ON THEIR WAY TO TEXAS

ENSACOLA, Fla., March 9.—Three hundred soldiers, including the 15th and 20th artillery, the Eighth artillery band and the hospital corps, left for Galveston this morning. The equipment included ball cartridges. Orders were issued for all officers and men of other companies stationed here and who are on furlough to report for duty immediately.

UNITED STATES

NOT ASKED TO PROTECT FRENCH INTERESTS IN MEXICO

PARIS, March 9.—The officials of the foreign office today informed the Associated Press that the French government has made no representations to the United States regarding the protection of French interests in Mexico.

News of the American action was received with extraordinary interest by the foreign office, where, in the absence of special advisers from Washington on the subject, it is assumed that the reasons for the step taken were wholly sufficient.

Local financial interests are somewhat worried regarding events in Mexico, where, it is roughly estimated, this country has $100,000,000 invested. The explanation of the latest development current on the bourse is that the American government has in mind the ultimate possibility of being required to protect the immense American interests in Mexico.

TWO COMPANIES

BALTIMORE, Md., March 9.—Two companies of artillerymen from Fort Howard and McHenry left here this morning by rail for Fort Monroe, where they expected to embark for Texas.

BIG WARSHIPS

PREPARING TO SAIL FOR GULF OF MEXICO

NEW YORK, March 9.—A thick haze lay over New York bay this morning, hiding from view the three big armored cruisers which have been making hurried preparations to sail for the Gulf of Mexico to participate in the joint naval and military movement in Texas. Coaling of the warships, the armored cruisers Tennessee, Montana and North Carolina, was completed last night and there were apparently no obstacles to the sailing of these units of the war fleet except the adverse atmospheric conditions and the low tide of the early morning hours. The ships were expected to up anchor and away at any moment.

The lower harbor, where Rear Admiral Stanton's trio of big cruisers were awaiting sailing orders, was the one remaining seat of activity today in this vicinity in connection with the mobilization movement southward. The detachment of marines ordered from here to join the force headed for Guantanamo left yesterday, and last night the 1500 coast artillerymen from the harbor forts, mustered into a provisional infantry for service in Texas, sailed for Fort Monroe on the steamer Jamestown. Army officials stationed here were congratulating themselves today on the smoothness with which the work of getting men and supplies ready and hustling them off toward the scene of operations was accomplished.

SAN ANTONIO

PREPARED TO RECEIVE THE U. S. TROOPS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 9.—

Everything is in readiness for the coming of U. S. troops to Fort Sam Houston. The first contingent, the 11th infantry from Fort McPherson under Col. Van Orsdale, is scheduled to arrive this afternoon. Ideal camping grounds await the coming of the army. The camp is skirted by two ridges with a knoll overlooking the entire field in the northeast corner. Here division headquarters will be located. The infantry brigades will be camped on the west ridge with the battalion of engineers and the signal corps to the north of them. Along the northern edge of the field will be the artillery and on the east ridge the cavalry.

The sanitation will be as near perfect as military skill can make it. Colonel Girard, chief surgeon of the department of Texas, visited the field today and authorized his approval. In only one particular are arrangements incomplete, that of an adequate water supply. The laying of water mains from San Antonio has been delayed for lack of funds available for this specific work but this difficulty will be overcome. For several days after the advance guard arrives, however, it will probably be necessary to transport the water in wagons. For the manoeuvres ball cartridges, shrapnel and other business-like ordnance has been provided. Real ammunition in abundance is contained in the arsenal storehouses but so far no orders have been issued to have blank ammunition in readiness.

CIVIL SERVICE

Board to Meet Department Heads

Mayor Meahan has notified heads of departments to assemble in the mayor's reception room at 1:15 o'clock on the afternoon of March 16, to meet the civil service commissioners of Boston relative to matters pertaining to the service. The commission, early in the year, inaugurated a plan to visit the different cities throughout the state and talk with the mayors and heads of departments relative to the service, and the commission has already announced that its visits to other cities have proved very profitable and interesting to all concerned.

LOSS IS HEAVY

BUILDING IN CINCINNATI DESTROYED BY FIRE

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Fire early today destroyed the five-story building occupied by the Kurdeck Mfg. Co., makers and dealers in plumbing supplies, at 426-428 Plum's street, entailing a loss estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000.

INFLUX OF GOLD

REDUCED BANK OF ENGLAND'S RATE OF DISCOUNT

LONDON, March 9.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was reduced from 3½ to 3 per cent. today. The influx of gold and the return of cash from the country during the past week have so strengthened the bank's position that the directors found no difficulty in reducing the minimum rate when they held their weekly meeting today. The bank's reserve is now in the neighborhood of $30,000,000 pounds.

The lower rate had been largely discounted on the stock exchange and the markets there were practically unaffected, with the exception of consols which advanced 3-16 of a point.

THE DETROITS

TO PLAY GAME WITH CHICAGO CUBS

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—A game between the Cubs and the Detroit Americans at Monroe, La., is practically assured for 550th day next week. Manager Chance of the Cubs wired Manager Jennings of the Detroit last night in answer to the latter's request for a game, saying he would send a team of his regulars to Monroe any day next week except Saturday or Sunday for a guarantee of $1000 or the privilege of 50 per cent. of the gate receipts.

THREAT TO STRIKE

UNLESS WHITE MEN GET PREFERENCE OVER NEGROES

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Unless an affirmative answer to the demand that white firemen be preferred over negroes is given by tonight, the firemen employed by the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific railroad (Queen and Crescent route) will strike. This commission was reached last night as a result of balloting on a strike vote was announced.

GUN EXPERTS CONTESTING IN BIG NEW YORK TOURNAMENT

Young Men Charged With Breaking a Show Case

Frank M. Donohoe, John M. Tighe, and Joseph Coyle, three young men of good appearance, were brought before Judge Hadley this morning to answer to a complaint charging them with being drunk. The defendants pleaded not guilty and asked for a continuance till tomorrow, which was granted.

The trio, it is claimed, were coming down Central street last night, when near Chaffoux's store, it is alleged that one of them put his foot through the glass show case which stands on the outside of the store, and then the whole three started on a run. Officer Michael Clancy, who was in the vicinity at the time, chased the trio and succeeded in capturing two of the gang. The latter were taken to the box, and a call for the patrol was sent in. In the meantime, the third member put in an appearance and was trying to tell the officer what a mistake he was making when Officer Petrie laid his hand on him and sent him to headquarters.

Drunkenness

There was quite a number of drunks before the court this morning, and among the lot were two from out-of-town. John Sweeney, who claimed his home as St. Albans, Vt., but who said he worked in Maine, was one. His next move will be to Bridgewater, for he was sentenced to the state farm. The other visitor was Patrick Nagle, who hailed from Woodstock, N. H. As it was Patrick's first appearance, a fine of $2 was imposed. Peter E. Riley was given a sentence to the state farm; he appealed and he was held in the sum of $200. Patrick Connelly and Treffle Manseau were both sentenced to the common jail for a term of 15 days. Manus Dolan was also given a sentence to the state farm, while Florenco O'Neil was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail. Frank Auger was fined $5 and three first offenders were released with $2 fines.

SOUNDS WARNING

District Attorney Higgins Talked on Party "Machines"

BOSTON, March 9.—Speaker Walker and Representative Russell A. Wood of Cambridge, inveighed against party machines and bosses, to which District Attorney Higgins and Representative A. P. Langry of Springfield warmly answered, at the annual dinner of the Middlesex county members of the legislature at the American House last evening.

More than a dozen of the delegation were absent, the governor didn't arrive, or send word, and President Treadway only ran in for a minute before dinner. On the way out one of the diners said, "We did not read our sides either with enthusiasm or indignation. There ought to be singing at an affair like this." Representative Nathaniel Tufts of Waltham presided.

Lieut. Governor Frothingham said that with the fusane in Massachusetts growing in number, 460 each year, many sleeping in corridors now, the state must have more buildings or larger ones for their accommodation.

County Commissioner Levi S. Gould declared there is no ring in Middlesex county "inimical to the people, but there is a band of devoted men managing affairs, until now our debt is less than $1 per capita and our holdings are north $3 per capita above the debt."

Dist. Atty. Higgins, in reply to Speaker Walker, said: "Beware of that ethereal thing, popular regard."

MAYOR MEEHAN JOSEPH LEGARE

Is Opposed to Proposed Charter Took Charge at Post Office Today

At a meeting of the men of St. John's Episcopal church, last night, William H. Wilson, Esq., said that Mayor John P. Meehan was opposed to the proposed new charter because the mayor believed that he (Mr. Wilson) would be a candidate for mayor under that charter.

Mayor Meehan, after reading the statement this morning said to a reporter: "In considering the proposed new charter, I never considered Mr. Wilson. I do not think that Mr. Wilson could be nominated for mayor under any charter."

"I am opposed to the new charter on many grounds, but I do not propose to discuss it to any extent at this time. I believe in government by the many, not by the few. To my mind the proposed new charter is not by any means the ideal form of city government and I think it will not be denied that I have as much regard for the welfare of my native city as has Mr. Wilson."

SUPREME COURT

DENIED PETITION OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

HARTFORD, Conn., March 9.—The supreme court sitting here yesterday denied the request of certain members of the Knights of Columbus that a mortuary fund of the order amounting at the present time to between $500,000 and $600,000, be reserved for distribution among those who were members of the order prior to the year 1902. The suit, a friendly one, was brought by Kane et al., against the order and in it they asked that the by-laws of the order be construed so that the mortuary fund should be held as a life trust for the benefit of those who had paid in the money to the fund, and also that the fund be made a life trust to be distributed in payment of future assessments.

The supreme court in its findings says that the corporation does not hold the funds in the suit upon a trust other than a trust in favor of all injured members and their beneficiaries. Also that there should be no distribution of the fund.

FROM THE ROAD

New Bedford Writer Places Lowell Second

Under the heading: "Why Lowell Should Land in Second Place," in a series of N. E. League articles in the New Bedford Times, Albert W. Keane, sporting editor, has the following to say:

Nine veterans from last year's club should prove enough to land second place for Manager Jimmy Gray and his Lowell team. From the opening day of the season Jimmy will have a seasoned team and already has a well balanced team without going out to get recruits.

Although the Lowell fans and Manager Gray are depending on their veterans to land them up at the top rung of the ladder the plan of annexing youngsters has not been abandoned and when the players begin to romp at Spalding park in April he will have no less than 25 youngsters trying out with his nine veterans.

Four cracking good pitchers are on the list and the staff ranks well with any on the circuit. Milton Wolfgang, the midge spit-baller, is a Class A performer and so is big Yount, another who came down from the big show. Al Wiltrigg will be there with the spit ball. But the one best bet is William Duval, the theological student, who twirled such fine ball for Al Winn two years ago. So Gray is not worrying about his staff of mound men.

Has Promising Recruits

But he has got some fine youngsters among whom are Frank Quinn of Albany, N. Y.; John Sullivan, of New York city; Edward Flanagan, Sydney Sheridan and Percy Still.

The catching staff is also back, and with Harry Huston as the first string man and "Cricket" Sullivan as the alternate, the backstopping department ranks with that of the Lynn club. There is no weakness in this spot, but Gray has three youngsters who aspire to don the big mitt, wind pad, and mask in the New England. They are Connolly of Chelsea, William Magee of North Andover, and E. J. Sullivan of Clinton, New York. They have little chance to make good.

There's one big hole at first base to fill. Fred Tenney did the job to the queen's taste, provided she is not too particular, last season. No matter who lands the job, he will fall several matches short of being Tenney's equal. Gray claims to have a phenom in John Dugan of Atlantic, Mass., and good men to try out in Alexander Taggart of East Orange, N. J.; W. H. Manning of Worcester, and J. R. Shaw of Boston. This will probably be the weak spot in the Lowell club.

There's only one choice for second base, and to me he looks to be the best second sacker on the circuit. Last year Cunningham was his only superior around the midway station, and in spite of all that is said to the contrary, Manager Gray expects to have Captain Frank Fitzpatrick covering the middle cushion. He is a good hitter, base runner, and an ideal man to lead a team during a hard battle.

Cooney is Erratic

There's only one choice for shortstop, and that's Bill Cooney. Bill ranked about third among the shortstops last year, playing an erratic game. He is not a star, nor is he a common player. He's just "betwixt and between," fitting in very nicely on the Lowell club although his position be classed as a spot which could be strengthened, but Gray is satisfied, as he fits into a cog in the Lowell machine.

Jackey Boultres, third sacker last season, will have two rivals for the honor of holding down the hot corner. Jake does not care much whether or not he gets the position, for if he does not Gray will shift him over on the piffles squad. Jake is a cracking man around third, but a little inclined to play to the stand.

One of the boys who will be pitted against Boultres is named Morgan

Evans and hangs his bat in Olyphant, Pa. He played on the Cooperstown, N. Y., club with Bill Cunningham three years ago and the Senator says he is a good ball tosser but not fast enough to displace Boultres. The other would-be Lowell idol is Albert Carroll from Uniontown, Pa.

The outfield looks solid as a rock. With Jim Magee, one of the best hitters and fielders in this league, covering left and the stocky Plubarity, mighty swatter looking after the right garden, Jim Blakeley should have no trouble in making good in centre if he is let out to Lowell.

If he is not the middle garden, may be a trifle weak, but Gray has signed up Rossmann, brother of the famed Claude, and three others named Sylvester, Vaughn, Witham and Siney for chances in the outworks of the defence and may develop a wonder.

And last of all let's hand something to Jimmy Gray, the manager who's always bubbling over with enthusiasm. He is so full of this spirit that he injects it into his men and it is this spirit which wins many a ball game for the Tigers.

So I pick Lowell for second place.

Mr. Keane is not aware of the fact that Duval Blakeley and Fitzpatrick are very doubtful members this year and he overlooks the fact that Paul Howard may yet be with us.

BOXING GOSSIP

The Queen City A. C. of Manchester, N. H., has arranged one of the greatest boxing shows ever staged in this section of the country for next Wednesday evening. It will be an all star show and will consist of three ten round bouts. In the welterweight class, Kid Shea of South Boston, who has been coming to the front with great rapidity, will tackle Terry Martin, the Manchester favorite. Johnny Glover, another So. Boston boy, and a favorite with Manchester fans will tackle the hard hitting and aggressive Jeff Doherty of New Haven, Conn. In a bout in the lightweight class, Johnny Gallant of Boston and Nap Dufresne, the Canadian featherweight champion, will meet in another bout. They will settle a long standing dispute as to who is the real French champion.

The finals in other classes were: 115 pound, Robert Patterson of Woburn threw Gus Lesage of Marlboro in 4 minutes, 32 seconds. 145 pound—Gus Hellen of Worcester threw Noah Nelson, Boston, in 8 minutes, 12 seconds. 155 pounds class, Hugo Bjorkland of Boston threw P. L. Cooper of Harvard A. A. in 11 minutes, 7 seconds. Heavyweight class—Fred Hanson of Boston threw Hugo Bjorkland in 4 minutes, 42 seconds.

ACTOR DISAPPEARS

Leaving Good Position and Wardrobe Behind Him

The management and members of the Donald Meek stock company are wondering what has become of John Alexander, a New York actor, who mysteriously disappeared from this morning of the 17th and had never reappeared on February 17th after rehearsing with the company for two days.

Mr. Alexander was engaged as a "heavy" man and was to have opened with the company in "The Girl of the Golden West" and had been given the part of "Jack Rance," the sheriff. He came to town with his baggage and wardrobe and on Feb. 14 after securing a room at the Richardson hotel reported at the theatre. He rehearsed with the company on the two days following, but on the third day failed to appear. After waiting a reasonable

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

WILL LECTURE IN THIS CITY TONIGHT

Wm. Jennings Bryan was hailed as party leader of democracy at the Boston City club, Tuesday evening, by the other speakers. That Mr. Bryan is just as popular as ever was proven by the enthusiastic receptions accorded him at two crowded gatherings of the club. The governor, Lieutenant governor, Robert Luce, G. F. Williams and others united in doing honor to "a great American citizen."

The Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated upon seizing a chance opportunity of getting Mr. Bryan to Lowell that the people might greet him.

Without doubt the First Universalist church will be packed tonight, when he delivers his lecture, "The Prince of Peace." The seats are not all sold yet, but indications point to a rush for tickets at the last moment. The lecture begins at 7.45 and ends two hours later, at 9.45. He leaves on the 9.55 night express for New York city.

Before the lecture an informal reception will be tendered in the vestry of the church at about 7.30 o'clock.

Seats may be procured at Dows' drug store, or the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Mr. W. T. Sheppard, Esq., will meet Mr. Bryan at Harvard college this afternoon and will accompany him over the road in an automobile to this city.

LIVELY BLAZE If It's in the Sun You'll Hear From It

LUNCH CART FIRE

Lunch Wagon Was Destroyed by Fire Early This Morning

An alarm from box 13 at 2.35 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to the corner of Paige and Bridge streets. The fire was in Burn's lunch cart and the cart was practically destroyed. The fire started while the man in charge had gone for his horse to take the cart home. Officer Peter McFarmon sounded the alarm. The insurance on the cart was carried by Fred C. Church, Daniel P. O'Keefe who was in the wagon when it was destroyed by fire, was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint charging him with drunkenness.

O'Keefe, whose face was pretty well scorched, pleaded guilty. Deputy Dowling asked for a continuance of the case, until an investigation as to the cause of the fire is made.

O'Keefe who, it is said, was in an intoxicated condition was found crawling out of the lunch cart when the fire was in progress. The cause of the blaze is not known and an investigation will be made.

The case was continued till tomorrow, and the defendant is held in the sum of $200.

GRAND WARDEN

Hubbard - Chosen Head of N. E. Order of Protection

BOSTON, March 9.—The 24th annual session of the grand lodge, N. E. O. P. in this city yesterday was perhaps the largest ever held, there being more than 600 representatives and 300 past wardens present. Alternates and visitors augmented the gathering to 900.

There was a contest for nearly every office except that of grand warden, Curtis A. L. Hubbard of Somerville being elected unanimously to that position. Eben S. Hineley was re-elected grand secretary for the 24th time, and G. S. Newhall of Lynn was elected grand treasurer for the fifth term.

A resolution to make past grand wardens members ex-officio of the grand executive committee was defeated, as was one making the three members of the grand finance committee elective.

An amendment to the laws in relation to a form of resolutions from Fraternity lodge of Attleboro was defeated.

An effort to abolish the annual banquet and substitute a cash consideration was overwhelmingly defeated.

It has been a prosperous year for the order, with a net increase in membership of 2731. The finances are in excellent shape, $1000 having been deposited for permanent keeping and there being a balance of some $7300 in the general fund.

Grand Warden Hubbard made these committee appointments:

Finance—Frank W. Swift, Mrs. Estelle I. Evans and C. L. Anderson.

Laws—George R. Howe, William G. Joy and Richard C. Lufus.

State of the order—Alfred F. Boylan, George H. Knapp and Charles A. Murray.

Fr. Daly declared such marriages were against the tenets of the Roman Catholic faith, which in 1905 made marriages by persons other than priests illegal in the sight of the church. He asserted there was too much novel reading among the girls and young ladies of the present generation.

"Many Boston girls are frivolous, silly and nonsensical," he continued. "They spend much of their time reading trashy love stories and novels, when they might better be doing really serious things. I have no sympathy against stories of the proper sort, but must warn you against the trashy novel that pervades our literature today."
